- Formative assessments – Formative assessments are designed as learning tools and will be assessed based on completion of the relevant items (assignments/quizzes/activities), rather than on your performance. Statistics will be used at the end of the term to determine the minimum number of formative assessments you have completed to earn full marks: D2L module quizzes, homework assignments, engagement activities. Each activity is equally weighted. To earn the maximum grade, you must complete 80% of the total assigned items. If you complete less than 80% of the tasks, your mark will be prorated based on how many you completed. Discussion of expectations around what constitutes completeness will be held in class.
