COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Course Commitment: While this is a remote course there are weekly deadlines. You need to be able to commit to working on this course weekly and meeting the weekly deadlines. Extensions for weekly content, assignments, exams or any evaluated work will only be granted under extenuating circumstances which do not include poor time management. I recommend planning to complete the work well before the weekly deadline so that you have the ability to respond to what life throws at you and to complete your coursework. I am unlikely to grant extensions for situations such as being asked to pick up a shift at work, coming down with a minor illness on the day material is due, having exams or material due in other courses.

Communication: For me to support you and teach you in this course we need to communicate effectively. You should plan to check your email/D2L/messages a minimum of twice a week to ensure you get timely information from me. I will respond to emails when possible but I am unlikely to respond on weekends (remember most deadlines for this course are Sunday so asking for help on Saturday will likely not get you help in time) or after hours. I have the expectation that you will reach out for assistance, stay in communication and be responsible for your own conduct in this course.

External Assistance: As a remote course all assignments and exams are open book. However, all submitted work must be completed by you and you alone. Unless specified in the instructions you are to produce the work yourself, to not share information about evaluations with other students, and to not collaborate on assignments and exams. When submitting work in this course you are asserting that the work has been generated and written by you (excepting appropriately cited material and quotations). Submitting work that has been completed by someone other than you, or has been generated using software or AI tools, even if you edit, revise and rephrase, is cheating and violates the Academic Integrity Policy. To be clear, in this course you may use word processing tools to update spelling and grammar in your assignments, but you may not use tools or others to generate, draft or significantly edit your work. I want to hear what you have to say about the topics assigned, I want to hear your arguments, your opinions and your voice- AI tools, while they may write flawlessly (and boringly) do not demonstrate your understanding and do not allow you to learn.

Consequences: While I am unlikely to grant extensions you are welcome to submit your work late (other than weekly MCQ quizzes). The penalty for late work is 10% per day. Work that I determine to have been generated or excessively edited by someone else or assistive technologies (software or AI tools) will be given a grade of 0 with no opportunity to redo the work.
