CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

An advanced physiology course that investigates physiological states and their relationships to injury and disease. Focus is on the body's response to injury/disease, tissue healing and repair, and how the healing process relates to therapy and rehabilitative medicine.

Requisites:

One of: C in BIOL 144, C in BIOL 151 - Must be completed prior to taking this course.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

Upon successful course completion, students will be able to:

- Describe the disease process in terms of etiology, pathogenesis, morphology, clinical manifestations, and prognosis.
- Explain the meaning of reliability, validity, sensitivity, specificity, and predictive value as it relates to observations and tests used in the assessment of injury and disease.

- Explain primary, secondary and tertiary prevention.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the cellular changes which accompany injury and disease.
- Describe common diseases of body systems that are relevant to the usual practice of the athletic/exercise therapist.
- Identify manifestations of common diseases relevant to the practice of athletic/exercise therapy.
- Explain physiological responses of various body systems that would indicate homeostatic imbalance.
- Explain the cellular changes and different body system responses to injury and disease across the ages and various populations.
- Identify the considerations for cultural, ethnic, gender, age and functional ability differences in clientele.
- Demonstrate timely and appropriate interventions and referrals.
- Explain the internal physiology of the human body in normal function and disease states.

Schedule

Lectures on Tuesdays from 1-2:20 pm in CC 124 and Thursdays from 11:30 am to 12:50 pm in TEC 175.

Attendance, Exams, and Assignments

Students are expected to be present in class when there are case studies or group work to be completed. Students are also responsible for catching up on any missed material by checking in with a peer for notes before contacting the instructor.

In addition to self-isolation, an excused absence also includes: a) a bonafide intercollegiate trip; b) permission of instructor prior to absence; and c) compassionate reasons.

Midterm, Final Exam, and D2L Quiz Scheduling

- The lecture schedule listed above includes tentative dates for topics and group case study assignments; please note that they are subject to change. Revised dates will be announced in class – it is the student's responsibility to take note of revised dates.
- The final exam is scheduled by the Registrar's office and will occur during the Fall Examination Period December 12-20th, 2022. Students must write the final exam to pass the course.
- Students who miss a midterm exam, final exam, D2L quiz, or group assignment for legitimate reasons (see 'excused absences' below) will be accommodated. All other reasons will not be accommodated for and you will get a mark of zero for the item you missed.

Exams: Midterm and final examinations must be written on the date scheduled. Final examinations may be scheduled at any time during the examination period; therefore, students should avoid making prior travel, employment, or other commitments for this period. All students are expected to write the final exam at the time, date, and location set by the Office of the Registrar. If a student is unable to write an exam through no fault of his, her, or their own, valid documentation must be provided and it must be discussed with the instructor well in advance of the exam date. If the student is absent for an exam and has not made arrangements with the instructor in advance, a zero grade will be applied.

Late Assignments

Assignments handed in after the due date will not be evaluated. Extensions will not be granted for D2L quizzes. Students who miss assignments for legitimate reasons, such as an illness may be allowed to hand the assignment in late. All other reasons are unexcused and will not be accommodated for.

Papers and / or assignments that are deemed unacceptable by the faculty will be returned and receive an automatic 10% deduction on the grading of said item. Papers and / or assignments will receive a 10% per day deduction thereafter. After the 5th day, the assignment will receive a grade of 0%. Failure to turn in an assignment may result in an incomplete final grade being assigned for the course. Reasons that a faculty may deem an item unacceptable include, but are not limited to the following: grammar, spelling, content, punctuation, and inappropriate referencing/citations.

Use of Laptops, Tablets, Calculators, and Mobile Phones

- Calculators are permitted during tests. Permission is restricted to non-programmable calculators only. Cell phone and watch calculators are not permitted.
- Cell phones are not to be used during class time. Please remove ear buds, headphones, etc. prior to entering the classroom.
- Please note that audio/video recordings and photos of lectures are prohibited, unless valid documentation for accommodations are provided by CAL (Center for Accessible Learning).

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Enrolment at Camosun assumes that the student will become a responsible member of the College community. As such, each student will display a positive work ethic, assist in the preservation of College property, and assume responsibility for their education by researching academic requirements and policies; demonstrating courtesy and respect toward others; and respecting expectations concerning attendance, assignments, deadlines, and appointments.
