As your course instructor, I endeavour to provide an inclusive learning environment. However, if you experience barriers to learning in this course, do not hesitate to discuss them with me. Camosun College is committed to identifying and removing institutional and social barriers that prevent access and impede success.

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

This course examines the legal relationship between employers and employees, as defined by common law and statute law. Topics include human rights, employment standards, contracts and HR policies, privacy, wrongful dismissal and just cause for termination. While the topics apply to both union and non-union environments, the collective bargaining relationship between unions and employers is not examined.

PREREQUISITE(S)

Must be completed prior to taking this course. All of:

- C in BUS 210

And one of:

- C in BUS 276
- C in BUS 318
- Bachelor degree from a recognized post-secondary institution

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

1. Identify the role of administrative agencies as they affect the workplace, including the Human Rights Tribunal and the Employment Standards Branch, and to anticipate when these agencies would be involved in the workplace.
2. Assess when a contract of employment exists as opposed to an independent contract of service and to assess the contractual and legal ramifications between the two.
3. Identify the typical terms of an employment contract and what makes the contract binding and draft basic terms.
4. Identify specific statutes and regulations relevant to the workplace and how they affect the employment relationship, including but not limited to, the Employment Standards Act, and BC Human Rights Code, and to apply their relevance to specific workplace situations.
5. Identify the respective common law obligations that are owed between employers and employees in the employment contract.
6. Identify and apply the legal obligations of an employer when terminating a worker, whether such termination is for just cause or not, and what notice of termination – if any – must be given to a dismissed worker.
7. Evaluate the ways in which employers can be liable for discrimination against workers and, applying the terms of human rights legislation to specific work situations, determine what constitutes such things as a bona fide occupational requirement, and the employer's duty to accommodate a worker alleging discrimination.
8. Assess the limits of vicarious liability of employers for their worker's torts and other wrongdoing when they are conducted within the scope of the worker's employment duties.
9. Apply existing affirmative action requirements in human rights legislation, including the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, to specific workplace situations.
10. Identify ways in which privacy rights of workers must be respected and protected by employers.
11. Assess workplace equity issues particularly gender differences and unequal pay for equal work.
12. Identify the role of Social Media in the workplace and evaluate its appropriate use.

WORKLOAD:

You are expected to consult the course website and then read the materials for the coming class (beforehand), to attend all meetings of the class, including group meetings, to develop class and study notes, and to prepare for your examinations.

INSTRUCTION METHOD:

This class meets for three hours per week with additional time online. Classes may include a lecture, class discussions, team meetings, in-class tests and additional weekly on-line work/readings. There is a team project. Since some topics included in the course text are also addressed in other courses, we do not cover Chapters 3, 4, 8 and 9.

COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

See the course D2L site for assignment instructions and grades, rubrics, course materials, and handouts for class. Important information will be posted in the course News; ensure you read each item. Due date reminders also appear on the course home page. If you have any questions or concerns, please ask!

School of Business Academic Honesty Guidelines

The School of Business is committed to promoting competence, professionalism and integrity in our students and developing their core skills to succeed throughout their academic programs and in their careers. The purpose of these guidelines is to provide clear expectations of appropriate academic conduct and to establish processes for discipline in appropriate circumstances. It is the student's responsibility to become familiar with the guidelines, definition, and consequences of academic dishonesty.

School of Business Academic Honesty Guidelines

Acts of academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to:

- Using the exact words of a published or unpublished author without quotation marks and without referencing the source of these words.
- Duplicating a table, graph, or diagram, in whole or in part, without referencing the source.
- Paraphrasing the ideas of another person, whether written or verbal, without referencing the source.
- Providing answers to another student in any test, examination, or take-home assignment.
- Taking unauthorized materials into an examination or test.
- Submitting the same paper or portions thereof for more than one assignment in different courses without the instructor's permission.

If you are uncertain or have any questions regarding academic integrity, please do not hesitate to discuss these with your instructor.

Assignments & Exams

Assignment Formatting

The School of Business uses APA style for formatting assignments and citing references. Proper citations and formatting using APA style will be required. See <https://camosun.libguides.com/apa7>

- Submit all assignments into the D2L drop box by your last name.
 - In text citations for quotes, paraphrasing, and references must be consistent with APA standards.
 - Grammar, spelling, style and APA formatting, citations and referencing will be assessed in your mark.
 - All submitted work must be properly referenced to sources.
- a. Students must submit their assignments on the due date. A grade of zero will be assigned to late submissions. There are no additional assignments or make up exams of any kind if you performed poorly on an assignment, midterm or final exam.
 - b. EXAM DATES WILL NOT BE RESCHEDULED. Non-attendance on scheduled exam dates results in a zero grade. Exceptions will be made only for medical reasons or extenuating circumstances which must be submitted and then accepted by the instructor. Please advise your instructor promptly.
 - c. Students registered through the Centre for Accessible Learning \(CfAL\) should discuss timelines with their instructors at the beginning of each semester.
 - d. Medical notes must be dated, signed, and be written on letterhead or prescription paper imprinted with the physician's name and address. Notes from RNs, chiropractors, massage therapists, etc., will not be accepted. Electronic notes will not be accepted. Medical documentation must be received no later than 1 week after the student's absence.
 - e. Unless otherwise specified, you are to submit your own work, any work collaborated (unless permitted by the course) will be considered in violation of the College's Student Conduct Policy.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Enrolment at Camosun assumes that the student will become a responsible member of the College community. As such, each student will display a positive work ethic, assist in the preservation of College property, and assume responsibility for their education by researching academic requirements and policies; demonstrating courtesy and respect toward others; and respecting expectations concerning attendance, assignments, deadlines, and appointments.
