CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

Students are introduced to the theory and application of soils settlement calculation and shear strength, and the design methods of retaining walls and foundations, and the analysis of slope stabilities. Students learn the basic concepts and principles of the construction materials of aggregates, Portland cement concrete, asphalt binders, and mixes, including the design, batching, and testing of Portland cement concrete and the design and testing of asphalt mixes. Typical standard tests on soils, aggregate, Portland cement concrete, and asphalt mixes are performed. introduced.

PREREQUISITE(S): C in CIVE 261
CO-REQUISITE(S): None
EXCLUSION(S): None

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this course a student will be able to:

- Apply relevant safety regulations and best practices in the lab and in the field.
- Conduct a one-dimensional consolidation test and a direct shear test and analyze the test results.
- Calculate settlement due to primary consolidation.
- Describe how to use soil properties to evaluate a slope stability and to design foundations and retaining walls.
- Sample aggregates in normal field settings (i.e. pits, truckloads, conical piles, etc.).
- Describe the general process of aggregate production and appropriate methods of stockpiling and handling.
- Explain the concepts and testing methods of aggregate cleanliness, toughness, and durability.
- List and describe the principal composition of the raw materials used in the production of the five major types of Portland cement.
- Describe the characteristics of the main compounds, the physical properties and tests of Portland cement.
- Describe the requirements for the major component materials and typical admixtures in Portland cement concrete.
- Describe the differences between entrained and entrapped air in Portland cement concrete.
- Design Portland cement concrete mix using the absolute volume method.
- Describe the concepts of deformation and durability of hardened Portland cement concrete.
- Describe classification, production, composition, and their basic properties of asphalt binders and asphalt mixes.
- Design asphalt mixes according to Marshall method.
- Describe how the basic asphalt mix properties influence the behaviors of asphalt pavement.
- Grade asphalt binders using the Canadian General Standards Board and the Superpave grading systems; describe the basic testing methods used in the gradings.
- Test the properties and analyze their test results for aggregate, plastic and hardened Portland cement concrete, and asphalt mix.

EVALUATION OF LEARNING

Component	Option 1	Option 2	Comment
Quizzes	23%	50%	Open book
Labs	22%	45%
Instructors Assessment	5%	5%	Based on your attendance and co-operation during lectures and labs
Final Examination	50%	/	Open book
TOTAL	100%

50% on the final examination for Option 1, or 50% average on all tests/examinations for Option 2, must be attained in order to pass this course. You will be asked to choose Option 1 or Option 2 in Week 14. If you miss Quiz 4 or any two quizzes from Quiz 1 to Quiz 3, you will only be evaluated by Option 1.

Mark deduction for late submission of any lab report is 10% of that report. If it is handed in after the lab reports of the other students are returned to class, no mark will be given. But all the required reports must be submitted to the instructor's satisfaction prior to the final examination in order to pass this course. If a lab session is missed without a solid reason, a mark of zero will be assigned for that lab session. If your report is required to redo, you have one week to complete your work and rehand in from the day of your receiving the notice, and your maximum mark for that report will be the minimum mark of the class minus 10%.

If you have a concern about a grade you have received for an evaluation, please come and see me as soon as possible. Refer to the Grade Review and Appeals policy for more information.

COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Attendance

Students are expected to attend all lectures and labs on time. It is your responsibility to catch up with the others of your class if you missed some classes. The 5% of Instructor's Assessment will be partly based on your attendance.

Due dates and Late Submissions

Your lab reports are usually due in one week after completing your labs. The purpose of the due dates is to help both you and I to get the work done so that we can have a relatively quick feedback and also your work can be assessed in a timely manner. Late submissions of any project or assignment will be subject to mark deductions.

Quizzes and Final Examination

All Quizzes and Final Examination must be written at the scheduled times with the exception of students requiring an accommodation by CAL. It is understood that emergency circumstances do occur (e.g. severe illness or family emergency); for such circumstances, accommodation may be offered at the discretion of the instructor, provided the student:

- a) notifies the instructor in advance of the exam (not after), and
- b) provides documented evidence of the circumstance (e.g. medical certificate).
