COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Instructor Responsibilities

- Provide lectures and facilitate in-class learning
- Provide learning materials, on time, based on the course's learning outcomes
- Grade assignments and provide feedback when appropriate (ideally within less than two-three weeks of due dates)
- Meet with students during posted office hour or by appointment

Student Responsibilities

- Attend class regularly (be present mindfully) and manage time well
- Keep up with the course material and readings (listed on the tentative schedule, posted on D2L and shared in class)
- Participate regularly and respectfully in class discussions
- Complete readings, quizzes, and assignments on time
- Submit assignments consisting solely of your own work (see plagiarism section below)
- Ask for help when you need it and when you don't understand a concept
- Familiarize yourself with and use the college's supports
- Learn and adhere to the college's academic policies

Additional Information

- Please feel welcome to ask questions. If you do not understand something, or if you find yourself stuck, seek help. In addition to the website and texts listed above, resources include your instructor, the English Help Centre, research librarians, counseling services, the Eyē? Sqā'lewen office, and the Centre for Accessible Learning.
- Please contribute to an atmosphere of mutual respect and collaboration. Speak, write and act with integrity and sensitivity, mindful of how one's words, actions, and attitudes affect others. Please listen and read carefully with an open mind, valuing differing viewpoints.
- If you need to miss class or require an extension, please email or talk to your instructor ahead of the class or deadline. Your instructor won't comment on assignment drafts over email, but you are welcome to ask your instructor specific questions about assignments via email (such as "does this thesis statement work better"? or "is this better apostrophe usage?"). If you have questions or concerns about anything pertaining to the course, please email your instructor at any time (or attend office hours). If you don't receive a response to your email within 48 hours Monday-to-Friday, please resend it.
- Please book times to meet with your instructor as needed.

Time Management

- Regular attendance and course work are essential for the successful completion of this course. Be sure to have a time management plan in place, so you schedule regular intervals to work on the course. Think of a full course load as a full-time job—do the math and divide time accordingly. There are deadlines every week, so be sure to keep track of your responsibilities. If you need to miss class, check to see if there are online materials on D2L you can follow, so you can keep up while you're away.

Tests and Assignments

- Completion of all major assignments is mandatory to successfully complete the course.
- If not otherwise noted, assignments will be due on paper on the instructor's desk before the start of class. If you are ill, you may submit the assignment in the Assignments area on D2L before the posted deadline.
- Assignments handed in late will receive a 2% per day deduction and will not receive written feedback. Assignments will not be accepted one week after the deadline or beyond the class completion date. Once marked assignments have been returned to the class, late ones will no longer be accepted for submission without the approval of the instructor.
- If you need to miss a test or the due date of an assignment, you must inform the instructor before the due date. You will need a counsellor's or doctor's note to be granted permission to write a test at a later date, and the test must be written within two weeks of the original test date.
- Please keep a photocopy or electronic copy of all the assignments you submit in case work is lost, damaged or misplaced. Also, save all graded assignments until the completion of the course.
- Assignments must be typed and double-spaced, using a 12pt Times New Roman font and must include the student's name, the title of the assignment, the name of the course, the instructor's name, and the date in the upper left corner of the first page.

SCHOOL OR DEPARTMENTAL INFORMATION

D2L Materials

Please note that course material is designed for use as part of English 104 at Camosun only and is the property of the instructor and Camosun unless otherwise stated. Third party copyrighted materials (such as book chapters and articles) have either been licensed for use in this course or fall under an exception or limitation in Canadian Copyright law. Copying this material for distribution (e.g. uploading material to a commercial third-party website) can lead to a violation of Copyright law.

Use of AI-based Writing Tools

- Students may not use ChatGPT or other AI-based language models to complete assignments or exams unless specifically instructed to do so; to do otherwise is considered plagiarism.
- If the use of ChatGPT or similar AI-based language models is assigned, students must cite their use in their work, following the style guidelines for the course.
- Students are responsible for understanding the limitations and potential biases of ChatGPT and other AI-based language models and for critically evaluating their output.

- The use of ChatGPT or other AI-based language models is not a substitute for participating in class discussions or completing course readings.
- If unauthorized use of AI is suspected, the instructor may require the student to pass an oral and/or written examination on essay content and style.
- Using AI-based tools without explicit permission and using AI-based tools without correct acknowledgement and citations will result in a zero grade as per plagiarism guidelines.
- The instructor reserves the right to modify this policy as necessary.

Note: The preceding section was modified for English 104 by Brenda Proctor, and originally generated by ChatGPT from the prompt, “What would be a good syllabus policy regarding the use of ChatGPT (or other AI-based language models) to use for a college-level course?” by Andy Van Schaak (human and organizational development, Vanderbilt University)
