INSTRUCTOR DETAILS

NAME: Janice Niemann (you can call me Janice, and I use she/her pronouns)

EMAIL: niemannj@camosun.ca

OFFICE: Paul 320

HOURS: Wednesdays from 11:30-12:30 and Thursdays from 11:30-2:30, or by appointment (this time is set aside specifically for you to drop in and ask questions; talk about assignments, readings, or course content; or just chat about your thoughts in general)

As your course instructor, I do my best to provide an inclusive learning environment. However, if you experience barriers to learning in this course, I encourage you to discuss them with me. Camosun College is committed to identifying and removing institutional and social barriers that prevent access and impede success.

Hello! Welcome to ENGL-151: Academic Writing Strategies, which introduces you to academic writing and research. My name is Janice, and I will be your fearless leader throughout our journey together. The goal of ENGL-151 is to enable you to build and practice writing, research, and critical thinking skills that are vital to academic success, and to responsible citizenship more broadly. I am very excited to be here, and I hope that you are too!

ENGL-151 will give you the opportunity to develop these core transferable skills in critical thinking, research, and writing that you will use in your other courses, regardless of your program. Through the analysis of a variety of readings, in-class discussions, and your own research and writing, you will discover the characteristics and conventions used by scholars in different disciplines. You will explore different genres of academic writing and how these genres reflect different rhetorical purposes. You will also practice typical academic writing tasks, including writing a research paper, and will learn strategies for reading and writing effectively and for approaching new writing tasks.

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

This course provides core critical thinking, reading, research and writing skills transferable to academic disciplines. Students practice various forms of academic writing, including summary, critical analysis, and written research. Analysis of textual rhetoric, discourse, and style, along with academic essay-writing, develops self-awareness of methods of inquiry, critique, and reflection.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course a student will be able to:

1. Form critical responses to ideas.

- Distinguish between fact and opinion.
- Analyse and articulate the reasoning behind an argument.
- Demonstrate a critical examination of ideas through close reading, inquiry, divergent thinking, evaluation of evidence and interpretation, as well as an understanding of rhetoric, reason, logic and word usage.
- Produce writing under exam conditions, as well as outside class.
- Differentiate academic and non-academic writing.

2. Write in an academic style common to multiple disciplines.

- Approach writing as an active exploration of multiple perspectives on a topic.
- Compose effective summaries.
- Select and use rhetorical patterns purposefully.
- Employ a comprehensive writing process, which includes prewriting, focusing, planning, multiple drafting, conferring, revising and editing/proofing.
- Develop an argument with a controlling thesis; write unified, coherent paragraphs, including effective introductions, transitions and conclusions in correct, clear, effective English.
- Develop effective, focused research questions.
- Demonstrate control, clarity and cohesion in the development and organization of ideas.
- Vary style purposefully for planned rhetorical strategies.
- Write for specific results.
- Critique his/her own and others' writing.

3. Read and analyze complex texts from various academic disciplines.

- Vary reading approaches for different purposes, such as personal response, persuasion, and criticism.
- Participate and engage in a dynamic, stimulating exchange of ideas based upon close textual readings.
- Discuss and debate text using terminology appropriate to the discipline and context of those texts.
- Analyze textual readings, which may include visual texts, by identifying controlling ideas, supporting details, dominant rhetorical pattern, subtext, tone and stylistic features.
- Summarize readings to reflect coherently the original's ideas, purpose, organization, and tone.
- Critically read your own and others' writing.

4. Demonstrate information literacy skills.
 - Determine the nature and extent of the information needed.
 - Know and use what information resources are available, in different formats.
 - Use print and electronic resources effectively and efficiently.
 - Evaluate sources for authority, relevance, reliability, currency and other criteria.
 - Incorporate and integrate research through correct use of summary, paraphrase and quotation.
 - Document sources fully and ethically, according to specified bibliographic conventions.

5. Develop self-awareness as an academic writer and contributor.
 - Articulate one’s position in a critical debate of ideas.
 - Reflect on one’s own writing for continuous improvement.

REQUIRED MATERIALS & RECOMMENDED PREPARATION / INFORMATION

All of our readings for this course are available for free online. Our main textbook is called Why Write? A Guide for Students in Canada, and it and all of our other readings will be posted on D2L.

Each week, we will meet in class to discuss and practice different skills related to academic writing. You should be checking D2L every week to make sure that you are caught up and on track.

If you have a concern about a grade you have received for an evaluation, please come and see me as soon as possible. Refer to the Grade Review and Appeals policy for more information. <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-1-programming-and-instruction/e-1.14.pdf>

COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

In order to help you get the most out of this course, I will begin each class with the assumption that you have completed any assigned reading/watching/listening for the day. Doing all of your readings before class is one of the best ways to set yourself up for success in an English course.

Late assignments

I have a 48-hour grace period for each assignment, and then I will take 2% off of your assignment grade for every day that it's late past the original due date. Please know, though, that I will always grant you an extension if you ask for one by 4:30pm on the original due date. Unless there are extenuating circumstances, I will not grant extensions after 4:30pm on an assignment's due date—if you need more time and forget to ask, you have the 48-hour grace period to submit. To ask for an extension, you should email me before 4:30pm on the due date, and let me know a) that you need an extension, and b) when you're planning to submit your assignment. You do not need to send me documentation or details. I understand that sometimes life gets in the way of school, and I trust you to manage your time in the way that works best for you. You should understand, though, that the assignment schedule is set up to build the skills you will need to do well on your final paper and final exam, which, together, make up almost half of your grade for the course. If you hand in your assignments on time, I will give you detailed comments and feedback before your next assignment is due; if you hand in assignments after the due dates listed, I will not give you detailed written feedback, and it may not be promptly returned to you.

Distraction policy

This policy is simple: do not distract other learners in the room. There are many reasons that you might want or need to have technology (laptop, phone, tablet) out in class, which is why my policy on technology use in the classroom is relaxed. All I ask is that you do not disrupt other students with your devices, which means that I expect you to keep the volume off on all of your devices and to use your devices only for course-related activities. Please be considerate of your peers—your screens can distract others. I will not tolerate behaviour that negatively impacts other students' learning.

Attendance and participation

Although I do not give a mark for attendance, you won't know ahead of time when your reading quizzes will be (they make up 10% of your final grade), so you'll need to be in class to write them. I expect you to attend and participate in class because class discussion prompts a level of engagement with course material that you will not get anywhere else. It also allows me to assess which aspects of the course you understand well, and which topics I need to review further.

Children and babies

It is absolutely okay to bring your child to class occasionally, in order to cover gaps in childcare. If you do bring your child to class, please step outside if your child is feeling chatty. Babies who are nursing are always welcome—you should never have to choose between feeding your child and coming to class.

Academic integrity

The work you submit for ENGL-151 must be your own, and should follow proper MLA formatting and citational guidelines. Presenting the work of others, whether it is used without attribution (not properly citing your sources), submitted by you but written by someone else (including work written by artificial intelligence), or produced with inappropriate help (unauthorized editing), violates the college's policy on academic integrity. It is important to acknowledge your sources for a number of reasons: you are giving credit to the person who came up with the idea, you are demonstrating that you are participating in a broad scholarly conversation about your topic, and you are helping me find the really cool and interesting sources that you use in your research in case I want to learn more about your topic. If an academic misconduct case does arise, I will deal with it on an individual basis, but it could result in a mark of 0% on the assignment or a failing grade in the course. Please also see the college's full statement on academic integrity (see link later in syllabus), which both you and I are obliged to follow.

Grading

I will grade your assignments based on how successfully they demonstrate the learning goals for each assignment, using the specific marking rubric attached to each assignment and Camosun's guidelines for undergraduate grading (see link later in syllabus). If your assignments are submitted on time, I will return them to you before your next assignments are due. Please know that your grades are never a reflection of you as a person, but merely indicate how well one particular assignment meets the assignment criteria. You will receive an I grade (incomplete) in the course if you do not submit the following: summary, rhetorical analysis, research paper, and final exam. If you feel that an assignment you submitted has been unfairly evaluated, your first step is to discuss your concerns with me. Be prepared to show me a one-page written statement explaining how your work matches the standards for the letter grade you think you should have received with reference to the assignment guidelines and marking rubric. If you are not satisfied with your discussion with me, you may apply for a formal grade review, and I can help you navigate how to do that (see link later in syllabus).

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Enrolment at Camosun assumes that the student will become a responsible member of the College community. As such, each student will display a positive work ethic, assist in the preservation of College property, and assume responsibility for their education by researching academic requirements and policies; demonstrating courtesy and respect toward others; and respecting expectations concerning attendance, assignments, deadlines, and appointments.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The College is committed to providing appropriate and reasonable academic accommodations to students with disabilities (i.e. physical, depression, learning, etc). If you have a disability, the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) can help you document your needs, and where disability-related barriers to access in your courses exist, create an accommodation plan. By making a plan through CAL, you can ensure you have the appropriate academic accommodations you need without disclosing your diagnosis or condition to course instructors. Please visit the CAL website for contacts and to learn how to get started:

Mandatory Attendance for First Class Meeting of Each Course

Camosun College requires mandatory attendance for the first class meeting of each course. If you do not attend, and do not provide your instructor with a reasonable reason in advance, you will be removed from the course and the space offered to the next waitlisted student. For more information, please see the "Attendance" section under "Registration Policies and Procedures" (<http://camosun.ca/learn/calendar/current/procedures.html>) and the Grading Policy at <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-1-programming-and-instruction/e-1.5.pdf>.

Medical / Compassionate Withdrawals

Students who are incapacitated and unable to complete or succeed in their studies by virtue of serious and demonstrated exceptional circumstances may be eligible for a medical/compassionate withdrawal. Please visit <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.8.pdf> to learn more about the process involved in a medical/compassionate withdrawal.

Sexual Violence and Misconduct

Camosun is committed to creating a campus culture of safety, respect, and consent. Camosun's Office of Student Support is responsible for offering support to students impacted by sexual violence. Regardless of when or where the sexual violence or misconduct occurred, students can access support at Camosun. The Office of Student Support will make sure students have a safe and private place to talk and will help them understand what supports are available and their options for next steps. The Office of Student Support respects a student's right to choose what is right for them. For more information see Camosun's Sexualized Violence and Misconduct Policy: <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.9.pdf> and camosun.ca/sexual-violence. Student Misconduct (Non-Academic)

Camosun College is committed to building the academic competency of all students, seeks to empower students to become agents of their own learning, and promotes academic belonging for everyone. Camosun also expects that all students to conduct themselves in a manner that contributes to a positive, supportive, and safe learning environment. Please review Camosun College's Student Misconduct Policy at <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.5.pdf> to understand the College's expectations of academic integrity and student behavioural conduct.

Changes to this syllabus: Every effort has been made to ensure that information in this syllabus is accurate at the time of publication. The College reserves the right to change courses if it becomes necessary so that course content remains relevant. In such cases, the instructor will give the students clear and timely notice of the changes.
