COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this course a student will be able to:

Form critical responses to ideas.

- a) Distinguish between fact and opinion.
- b) Analyse and articulate the reasoning behind an argument.
- c) Demonstrate a critical examination of ideas through close reading, inquiry, divergent thinking, evaluation of evidence and interpretation, as well as an understanding of rhetoric, reason, logic and word usage.
- d) Produce writing under exam conditions, as well as outside class.
- e) Differentiate academic and non-academic writing.

Write in an academic style common to multiple disciplines.

- a) Approach writing as an active exploration of multiple perspectives on a topic.
- b) Compose effective summaries.
- c) Select and use rhetorical patterns purposefully.
- d) Employ a comprehensive writing process, which includes prewriting, focusing, planning, multiple drafting, conferring, revising and editing/proofing.
- e) Develop an argument with a controlling thesis; write unified, coherent paragraphs, including effective introductions, transitions and conclusions in correct, clear, effective English.
- f) Develop effective, focused research questions.
- g) Demonstrate control, clarity and cohesion in the development and organization of ideas.
- h) Vary style purposefully for planned rhetorical strategies.
- i) Write for specific results.
- j) Critique his/her own and others' writing.

Read and analyze complex texts from various academic disciplines.

- a) Vary reading approaches for different purposes, such as personal response, persuasion, and criticism.
- b) Participate and engage in a dynamic, stimulating exchange of ideas based upon close textual readings.
- c) Discuss and debate text using terminology appropriate to the discipline and context of those texts.
- d) Analyze textual readings, which may include visual texts, by identifying controlling ideas, supporting details, dominant rhetorical pattern, subtext, tone and stylistic features.
- e) Summarize readings to reflect coherently the original's ideas, purpose, organization, and tone.
- f) Critically read your own and others' writing.

Demonstrate information literacy skills.

- a) Determine the nature and extent of the information needed.
- b) Know and use what information resources are available, in different formats.
- c) Use print and electronic resources effectively and efficiently.
- d) Evaluate sources for authority, relevance, reliability, currency and other criteria.
- e) Incorporate and integrate research through correct use of summary, paraphrase and quotation.
- f) Document sources fully and ethically, according to specified bibliographic conventions.

Develop self-awareness as an academic writer and contributor.

- a) Articulate one's position in a critical debate of ideas.
- b) Reflect on one's own writing for continuous improvement.

COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

You can expect your instructor to

- teach to the course goals
- give clear instructions for assignments and exercises
- advise and support students in their course work
- treat students with respect and act in a fair manner
- be available during office hours or, if necessary, arrange an alternative time to meet
- evaluate students fairly and constructively, based on criteria made clear to students beforehand

Your instructor will expect you to

- prepare for class by completing readings and assigned work on time
- actively participate in class activities
- ask questions if you need clarification
- keep up with course material and announcements on D2L
- submit your own, original, human-generated work, on time and according to instructions
- use instructor comments and feedback to improve future work
- cooperate with and act respectfully toward other students and the instructor

- communicate with the instructor about problems or concerns as soon as possible
 - I am here to support you to the best of my ability. The easiest way to get in touch with me is by email, and then we can make additional arrangements from there if need be. Please, too, be sure to check your own email regularly as I may need to contact you individually during the term.

Guidelines for Preparing and Submitting Written Assignments

All formal written assignments for this course should be typed according to assignment specifications. When you use sources, your assignments should include correct and complete citations in APA or MLA format. All assignments should be clearly marked with your name and submitted on time, as a PDF, through D2L Assignments.

If you would like to receive additional feedback on a written assignment, you must also submit a hard copy of your assignment at the beginning of class on the due date, in addition to adding brief comments in the notes section of your D2L version of the assignment indicating your feedback preferences.

Plagiarism, Cheating, and AI-Based Writing Tools

Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. Please ensure you submit your own, original work, which you have written for the assignments in this class.

Use of generative AI-based writing tools, like Chat GPT or translation programs, is prohibited for all course assignments; our course learning outcomes require individual (human) thought and application through all stages of the writing process. Work that contains hallmarks of AI-generated text will not be accepted and could be subject to further investigation as warranted. Since submitting work that is all or partially composed by generative AI is a form of academic misconduct, the related assignment will receive a grade of zero and may elicit further consequences. Please review Camosun's policies on academic honesty and plagiarism, which you can find here, and come speak to me if you have additional questions or concerns.

Late & Missing Assignments

You must submit assignments on time. However, a reasonable explanation and request for extension, if given before the due date, will be considered. Late submissions without prior explanation will lose 10% if submitted fewer than 5 school days after the due date and will lose 40% if submitted fewer than 10 school days after the due date. Late assignments will receive a grade only (no comments). Assignments submitted later than 10 school days after the due date will not be accepted.

Students must complete all major assignments to pass the course.

In-Class Writing

Under normal circumstances, students who cannot pass the cumulative in-class assignments will not pass the course. "Cumulative" here means multiple in-class assignments throughout the semester. Students who are concerned about this course requirement are encouraged to seek guidance and clarification from the instructor as early as possible.

Professionalism & Participation

You can demonstrate your professionalism through your attendance, preparation, engagement, respect, and thoughtful completion of assigned tasks, such as the reading quizzes.

Poor participation may affect your grade as a natural consequence through poor performance on assignments due to missed class work.

If you miss a class, it is best to send me a short email alerting me to your absence. It is then your responsibility to know the material covered. Check D2L for class content in addition to reaching out to a fellow classmate about the missed lesson, and then follow-up with me, if need be, regarding any additional questions or concerns you may have. If you have difficulty accessing course materials or assignments, please contact me.

For Your Records

Be sure to keep all rough drafts, final drafts, and graded assignments until the end of term. In the event of a computer failure or a grade discrepancy, these documents will be critical. Always, always back up your files. If you don't already have cloud-based file storage, consider using one of the many file storage platforms available. See me if you'd like more information.

Additional Notes

If you encounter circumstances that you feel impede your learning in this course, or if throughout the term you discover ways I could better support your learning, please let me know. I am happy to work with you to create a positive and productive learning environment.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Enrolment at Camosun assumes that the student will become a responsible member of the College community. As such, each student will display a positive work ethic, assist in the preservation of College property, and assume responsibility for their education by researching academic requirements and policies; demonstrating courtesy and respect toward others; and respecting expectations concerning attendance, assignments, deadlines, and appointments.

Medical / Compassionate Withdrawals

Students who are incapacitated and unable to complete or succeed in their studies by virtue of serious and demonstrated exceptional circumstances may be eligible for a medical/compassionate withdrawal (see Medical/Compassionate Withdrawals policy). Please visit <https://camosun.ca/services/forms#medical> to learn more about the process involved in a medical/compassionate withdrawal.

Sexual Violence

Camosun is committed to creating a campus culture of safety, respect, and consent. Camosun's Office of Student Support is responsible for offering support to students impacted by sexual violence. Regardless of when or where the sexual violence occurred, students can access support at Camosun. The Office of Student Support will make sure students have a safe and private place to talk and will help them understand what supports are available and their options for next steps. The Office of Student Support respects a student's right to choose what is right for them. For more information see Camosun's Sexualized Violence Policy: <https://camosun.ca/sites/default/files/2021-05/e-2.9.pdf> and camosun.ca/services/sexual-violence-support-and-education.

Student Misconduct (Non-Academic)

Camosun College is committed to building the academic competency of all students, seeks to empower students to become agents of their own learning, and promotes academic belonging for everyone. Camosun also expects that all students to conduct themselves in a manner that contributes to a positive, supportive, and safe learning environment. Please review Camosun College's Student Misconduct Policy at <https://camosun.ca/sites/default/files/2021-05/e-2.5.pdf> to understand the College's expectations of academic integrity and student behavioural conduct.
