COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

- This course is built on the idea that reading and talking about literature is important and engaging. I will not be telling you what the works are ‘about’. We will be talking about that together. This means that I expect you to come to class having read the material scheduled for that class and feeling prepared to enter into discussion about it.
- When you’re in class, be in class. Don’t be checking the internet or texting. We will spend some time in the first week establishing some group norms, but I will insist on this one!
- Late Policy: If you ask for an extension at least 48 hours in advance, the answer is always “yes”. You will need to offer a new due date and a plan for getting the assignment done. Late work will lose 5% for each calendar day. Late papers will receive a grade but no written feedback. This policy is meant to encourage you to plan realistically around your time.
- I am a resource for you! Please don’t hesitate to get in touch by email or during office hours (or by email to set up an appointment outside my office hours). Seriously! Don’t hesitate! Not even for a minute!
