This course, designed for non-native speakers of English, focuses on reading strategies and on the writing process. It is designed to prepare the student for further academic study. This course provides instruction and practice in the fundamentals of reading comprehension and academic writing.

In ELD 072, you will participate in a variety of learning activities: classroom instruction, pair and small-group activities, discussions, audiovisual learning, individual assignments and computer lab work. The combination of individual, small group and class work is designed to help improve specific skills, while encouraging you to learn together and from each other.

In addition to doing in-class activities with the instructor during these contact hours, students will also work independently, in four asynchronous hours per week (meaning, outside of class time, on your own schedule). It is each student's responsibility to complete these four hours of work each week and to complete and submit related assignments. These asynchronous hours will foster a sense of independence and responsibility. I encourage you to establish a schedule and to keep to it, week by week, as best you can.

Attendance

If you attend regularly, come prepared, speak English only in class, make a consistent effort and always do your best, you will make progress and most likely succeed in the course. In our department, we know from years of experience that regular attendance is essential in order to do well in this course. In fact, our statistics show that there is a very strong correlation between regular attendance and good grades. If you cannot attend a class because of illness or for some other valid reason, please contact me in advance. This will ensure that there is a possibility to negotiate extensions for assignments if needed. Also, I encourage you to make an arrangement with another student (to be your study buddy) to share notes in the event that either of you is absent. Finally, I strongly encourage students to take full advantage of the help available through the Instructional Assistants in the Help Centre.

Generative AI

This course will help you further develop your critical thinking and English language skills. In your marked assignments, you will demonstrate your developing fluency in English with your own work. You are not permitted to use generative artificial intelligence (Gen-AI) tools such as ChatGPT. Using Gen-AI will limit your ability to meet the course outcomes. If you have questions about the definition or use of Gen-AI, please ask your instructor.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

You must complete all your assignments in your own words. Work that you have copied from another source, including translation software or another person, is plagiarism. This is the theft of another person's ideas, writing, or work. Any quotations or references that come from another source must be cited. Plagiarized work will result in a zero grade for the assignment. In extreme cases, plagiarism will result in a failing grade for the course. This policy is in accordance with the Camosun College Calendar – Student Conduct section.

Assignments

Some assignments will be done in class, and you will receive individual assistance from me. You will also be expected to do other assignments at home. It is your responsibility to complete assignments and hand them in on time. If for some reason, you have difficulty meeting a deadline, you must discuss this with me before the due date. Failure to do this could result in a lower grade. In extreme cases, the result will be a failing grade. Assignments must be handed in at the beginning of the class in which they are due. Late assignments may lose 10% per school day.
