Guidelines for Preparing, Completing, and Submitting Written Assignments

All major assignments are mandatory. Students must complete all assignments to pass the course.

All in-class assessments, quizzes, and presentations must be completed in class on the day they are due or they will receive a grade of zero. If you have an emergency and are unable to attend class to complete the assessment, quiz, or presentation, notify me as soon as possible to explain your absence.

All formal written assignments for this course should be typed according to assignment specifications. When you use sources, your papers should include correct and complete citations in MLA format. All papers should be clearly marked with your name and submitted on time, as a PDF, through D2L Assignments.

Please do not email assignments unless directed to do so.

Students should keep copies of all assignments and draft documents related to the assignments until the end of the term. In the event of a computer failure or a grade discrepancy, these documents will be critical. Always, always back up your files. If you don't already have cloud-based file storage, consider using one of the many file storage platforms available. See me if you'd like more information.

Late & Missing Assignments

You must submit assignments on time. However, a reasonable explanation and request for extension, if given before the due date, will be considered. Late submissions without prior explanation will lose 10% if submitted < 7 days after the due date and will lose 40% if submitted >7days after the due date. Late assignments will receive a grade only (no comments).

Plagiarism & Cheating

Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. Please ensure you submit your own, original work, which you have written for the assignments in this class. You should review Camosun's policies on academic honesty and plagiarism, which you can find here: <http://camosun.ca/learn/school/arts-science/images/Arts%20and%20Science%20Academic%20Honesty%20Guidelines.pdf>.

Professionalism & Participation

Students are expected to treat all class members with respect and dignity. Try to be fully present for class by shutting off other programs and not checking your cell phone.

You can demonstrate your professionalism through your attendance, engagement, respect, and thoughtful completion of assigned tasks.

In addition to negatively impacting your course Participation grade (8%), poor participation may affect your grade as a natural consequence through poor performance on assignments due to missed class work.

Additional Notes

If you encounter circumstances that you feel impede your learning in this course, or if throughout the term you discover ways I could better support your learning, please let me know. We are in this together, and I am happy to work with you to create a positive and productive learning environment.

Please contact me with any concerns or questions regarding the course. The easiest way to reach me is by email (martfelda@camosun.bc.ca) or during my office hours.
