COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

- Students should bring a blank journal with their name clearly printed on the front next class. The journal should be a slender exercise book (no more than 40 pages - please do not submit duo-tangs or books with coil bindings as they are too bulky).
- Participation mark will be based on journal entries, attendance, punctuality, and contributions to in-class discussions.
- Because this course emphasizes participation and discussion, it is essential to complete the readings ahead of class. Out of respect for the dynamics of classroom conversation, please turn off any electronic devices (computers, cell phones, etc.) during class.
- Late papers will lose 5% per day, and they will receive a grade only (no comments).
- Write your own papers! Plagiarism is an academic offence that the college takes very seriously. Papers with any form of plagiarism will receive zero, and the incident will go on your permanent college record.
- The College provides many services, including a Writing Centre, an English Help Centre, free Counselling, and Financial Aid. See the "Supports for Students" links below for details.

JANET'S TIPS FOR SUCCESS

1. Be punctual and prepared for class: both your physical and your intellectual presence are essential. We are cultivating a community of readers and thinkers who can learn from each other, so substantial sections of our class time will be given to discussion. Learning to articulate your perspective on, response to, and questions about the day's reading will a) enrich the class members' understanding of the text, and b) enrich your ability to express yourself clearly in the written assignments.
2. Take good notes on lectures and discussions: For the final exam, you will be responsible for concepts that are covered in lectures and class discussion. You will also be responsible for the names of the authors and titles we cover this semester, so make a point of learning them as we go.
3. Write your assignments in stages: Even professional writers produce work in several drafts. Writing is a craft that requires attention to detail and refining. At a minimum, students should include brainstorming, outlining, drafting, and revising in their writing process, and revisions should take about the same amount of time as the draft.
4. Submit assignments with correct MLA format and documentation: Avoid handing in assignments that contain good material, but that look like first drafts. Formatting guidelines are finicky, but mastering them is not difficult. Read over the assignment carefully, making sure you understand what you are being asked to write about and how you are being asked to present it. If you have questions about an assignment...
5. Make use of my office hours: Some of the best learning over the semester happens in one-on-one conversations about your work. This is particularly useful after you have an outline (including thesis, topic sentences, and quotations from the text you intend to use to develop your ideas). Consultation is also useful after assignments have been graded and returned: the best way to improve for the next assignment is to make sure you understand how to avoid the difficulties in the current assignment.
6. Make a reliable friend in class: You are responsible for catching up on any missed classes. If you are absent, find a student to borrow notes from. Handouts or Power Points will also be available on D2L to complement your friend's summary of the lecture and class discussion. By all means come and see me in office hours if you need help understanding any material you have missed.

STUDENT TIPS FOR SUCCESS

- This class is an opportunity to open your mind and get out of your bubble: enjoy it!
- Try not to procrastinate.
- This class takes time. Write a first draft and then spend your time editing, especially for word choice
- Access the Writing Centre for support.
- Look up Janet's symbols in the margins of your marked essay to see what they mean – these were incredibly useful and accurate. They improved my writing for all my classes.
- Allow yourself quiet, uninterrupted space to do assignments.

- Spend time planning your essays. It's WAY easier than winging it, and they're the backbone of your grade.
- Put in the time to learn because this is a teacher who really cares about you and what you have to say. Very rewarding class.
- Don't be afraid to participate in discussions. Janet and the other students are great about not shutting down ideas, and you'll remember so much more.
- DO THE READINGS! And, write down your thoughts so you can participate easily.
- Make time to read the novel twice.
- Ask questions in class and take advantage of office hours (especially get feedback on outlines before writing a draft – it will save you SO MUCH WORK)
- Keep an open mind and take lots of notes during class discussions, especially about themes. It makes studying for the final way easier.
- Just put in the work. If you come to class, listen, follow the coursepack, and hand stuff in you'll do fine.
- Don't be afraid to approach Janet for help if concepts are not making sense or if you have a question about an assignment. I waited way too long to do this, and it would have made a huge difference to my grade if I'd gone for help right away.
- This class can feel more like a discussion with friends than school work if you approach it that way. Try to leave everything else at the door, so you can just enjoy throwing out your ideas and listening to other people's ideas.
