INSTRUCTOR DETAILS

NAME: MENEFIYE Elisha Elliott

EMAIL: elliotte@camosun.bc.ca

PHONE: 250-686-3223

OFFICE: Online

HOURS: By appointment

As your course instructor, I endeavour to provide an inclusive learning environment. However, if you experience barriers to learning in this course, do not hesitate to discuss them with me. Camosun College is committed to identifying and removing institutional and social barriers that prevent access and impede success.

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

Students will explore Indigenous relationships with land and water, perspectives on traditional ecological knowledge, concepts of traditional territory, and how ideas about economic and social development intersect with Indigenous cultural values. Students will explore contemporary Indigenous environmental issues including those related to extraction industries, development, tourism, and differing perspectives on stewardship

PREREQUISITE(S): One of:

- C+ in English 12
- C in Camosun Alternative

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES / OBJECTIVES

Students will explore Indigenous relationships with land and water, perspectives on traditional ecological knowledge, concepts of traditional territory, and how ideas about economic and social development intersect with Indigenous cultural values. Students will explore contemporary Indigenous environmental issues including those related to extraction industries, development, tourism, and differing perspectives on stewardship.

On completion of this course students will be able to:

- 1. Demonstrate an understanding of the interconnections within the environment and how it is a living, adaptive system.*
- 2. Describe, from the perspectives of the student's own Nation, other Nations, or local Indigenous peoples, major tenets of responsibility to land and water.*
- 3. Explain differing concepts of traditional territory and how they impact planning and practices related to use of land and water.*
- 4. Demonstrate an understanding of differing viewpoints and practices related to economic and social development on traditional Indigenous lands.*

REQUIRED MATERIALS & RECOMMENDED PREPARATION / INFORMATION

All materials will be available on D2L.

Please note: readings may be subject to change as we go along through the course. Any changes will be posted as news items on D2L and made available at least a week in advance.

EVALUATION OF LEARNING

DESCRIPTION	WEIGHTING
Attendance/participation	20%
Short reflection paper	15%
Midterm quiz	20%
SENĆOŦEN/WILŦEW Place Names 10%	10%
Final stewardship action paper	35%
TOTAL	100%

If you have a concern about a grade you have received for an evaluation, please come and see me as soon as possible. Refer to the Grade Review and Appeals policy for more information.
<http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-1-programming-and-instruction/e-1.14.pdf>

All assignments are to be submitted to D2L unless otherwise noted.

Unless specified, all assignments received after the due date will receive a 5% per day penalty to a maximum of one week after which I will not accept it unless you have consulted with me at least three days in advance of the due date and received an accommodation.

Assignment breakdown:

- 1) Attendance/participation: 20%
- 2) Short reflection paper: 15%
- 3) SENĆOŦEN/WILNEW Place Names 10%
- 4) Midterm quiz: 20%
- 5) Final stewardship action paper: 35%

1) Attendance/participation: 20% (2 x 8% = 16% -On the land class) (8 x .5% = 4% for Zoom classes)

Attendance and participation in the Zoom sessions is beneficial for your growth and learning in this course. For those that can't attend every zoom class you will have to communicate that with the instructor and you will have the option to write a 500 word reflection on the required readings for that class, handed in to my Camosun email with a maximum 7 days after the missed class.

We are going to have two days on the land May 13, 2023 9:30-5:30 and June 10, 2023 9:30-5:30. Please take note of these days and make the time in your schedule in advance. Attendance during these two days is important and worth 2 x 8%= 16%. Students cannot miss more than ½ of a day total for these two days.

I also encourage you to approach these sessions with the intention of getting as much from them as you can for your own learning. Like many things in higher education, the more energy you put in, the more you are likely to get out of these sessions. This means coming to class prepared to engage. Get the week's readings done beforehand. Take notes that include your own reactions and questions, and come to class with ideas of what you might want to talk about.

2) Short reflection paper (Due by May 14, 2023 @ 11:59 pm on D2L): 15%
600 words (~2 pages)

By this point in the term, we will have spent a fair amount of time engaging teachings and stories by Indigenous knowledge keepers. Pick one of these stories or teachings – or even one aspect or piece within these, which could also perhaps be one that has come out through class discussion – that you have found especially striking or interesting and that relates to course themes concerning interrelationships between people and land/waters. Write a 600 word reflection on what lessons or provocations you draw from this (and how the material leads you to draw this lesson), how you might connect this to your own relationships to the land going forward, and why.

In evaluating your papers, I will be grading on writing quality/organization and citations, but most importantly I will be looking for quality and depth of engagement with the material and with your own ideas. Ideally, this is an opportunity to develop and articulate a line of thought, tied in with an engagement with oral teachings.

NOTE ON CITATION: You are required to include one citation in your reflection from the readings in this class in APA citation style.

3) SENĆOŦEN/WILŦEW Place Names 10% (Due May 21, 2023 by 11:59 p.m on D2L)

It is important that we acknowledge the ancient place names of the local area that we live in. You will have to download the SENĆOŦEN Keyboard onto your computer and/or your phone via Language Geek or First Voices. Look through the maps in Salt Water People and Type out ten different place names in SENĆOŦEN, their translation, and their English name and upload your file under assessments in D2L. Make sure to cite Salt Water People using APA style citation.

4) Mid-Term Quiz (Due June 11, 2023 by 11:59 pm on D2L): 20%

There will be one mid-term quiz, made up of definition, short answer, and essay questions. It will effectively be an open-book, “take home”-style quiz. I will give you a list of questions at the start of the week, which you will answer and hand in by the end of the week. Quiz questions are intended to reference specific readings or lecture material from the course, so answering the questions should involve going back and finding where we have talked about X specifically within the context of this course. While you will have access to all your usual resources while writing the quiz from home, including Google, be aware therefore that there are limits to how useful the internet can be in this kind of exercise.

5) Final Paper-Stewardship Action Paper – Research Project: 35%

Due: Sun. June 18, 2023 @ 11:59 pm on D2L.

1500 words (~6-7 pages)

You will research a specific Indigenous-led project, campaign, action, movement, program or initiative relating to a stewardship issue from the course and a relationship with land, water, ice, air, non-human animals, plant life etc. This project can be undertaken by a community organization, a specific Indigenous community, coalition of communities, members of a community (clan, citizen’s group, youth etc.), non-governmental organization (NGO), other grassroots groups, or a combination of these.

You will then write a paper that discusses this initiative in relation to your chosen course theme. Therefore, you will need to utilize course materials in addition to your research. Your paper should also offer an analysis of this initiative for the purposes of drawing out lessons that might apply to others more broadly. This does not mean criticizing the initiative, but evaluating and analyzing it as a way of grappling with the theme in question. Some questions to ask here might be: what challenges and successes has this initiative experienced, and how have or might these be responded to? What lessons might be drawn from your example that others interested in similar projects or issues could benefit from? How might this initiative be supported by others (Indigenous and non-Indigenous folks)? How has learning about this initiative helped to develop your own thinking about the issue and what can be done about it?

For this assignment, you will need to provide citations for information about your initiative. You will also need to cite at least 3 course readings in your analysis/discussion and include a Works Cited page

Classroom Culture

We will proceed in the spirit of good heart, good mind and good feeling in our engagement with difference as we all come to this (virtual) circle with diverse stories, from distinct places, histories, cultures and life experiences. Sometimes difficult, emotionally fraught, and contentious issues are likely to come up since our subject is intimately bound up with politics. While this may not always equate to everyone's comfort and be unsettling, we all have a responsibility to help maintain a space of engagement and dialogue, in which we can all participate and learn collaboratively by getting to know each other better (even if this space is, in our case, virtual). Relations of respect and reciprocity can be cultivated in the classroom and extend outward to make broader change.

Aggressive behavior and discrimination based upon another's perceived ableness or physicality, origin or upbringing, race, ethnicity, religion or gender presentation will not be tolerated here.

Gender-neutral language is encouraged in group discussion and address to each other if an individual's preferred gender pronouns have not been shared.

Accessibility & Accommodations

Diverse learning styles and needs are very welcome in this course. Students may have specific personal and/or technical requirements or require flexibility in meeting assignment deadlines. This may be because a student is differently abled or has religious commitments. If you have specific considerations that may require accommodation, please make it known at the beginning of the term or as early as possible, both to the appropriate unit of the College, and myself, and supply all the necessary documentation. The sooner you let us know your needs the quicker we can assist you in achieving your learning goals in this course. For more information, please consult with the Centre for Accessible Learning.

Communication & Email

Check D2L and your College and provided email accounts often. You are responsible for being aware of pertinent information about the class posted on D2L or sent via email. I will give you a reasonable amount of time to check email. Please do the same for me, as I have a range of other responsibilities outside of class and I am not on work email at all times.

If you have a question about the course or an assignment, please check your Course Outline first before contacting me to see if this can clarify the issue.

When emailing, please take the time to properly address your email inquiries, include the course number (IST 232) in the subject line, and make sure to sign your message.

I prefer email to phone.

Assignment Submission & Late Policy

Each of the assignments outlined in the syllabus have specific due dates and submission requirements.

If through circumstances you are unable to meet a due date for an assignment, you must request an extension at least three days before the original due date. Extensions are reserved for times when unforeseen circumstances arise that require accommodation. They are not something you should rely on getting simply because you are busy or did not start your assignment early enough to get it in on time. Amongst other things, this is simply not fair to the other students who have ensured that their assignments are ready in time. In cases of illness or medical issues, documentation from a physician may be required.

Without prior accommodation, all assignments received after the due date will receive a 5% per day penalty to a maximum of one week after which I will not accept it.

Assessment & Grading

Before beginning and submitting assignments, always carefully review the requirements for the assignment in the Course Outline. If you produce an assignment that does not fit what was asked for, this will unfortunately impact your grade. If you have any questions please contact me before the due date.

On assignments where I am using a more specific rubric I will make this available well in advance; you already have one in your syllabus for your discussion posts. These are general descriptions of each grade range using the GPA system:

Grades	Grade Point Value	Percentage	Description
A+	9	90 – 100	Exceptional, outstanding and excellent performance. An A+, A, or A- is earned by work which is technically superior, shows mastery of the subject matter, and in the case of an A+ offers original insight and/or goes beyond course expectations. Normally achieved by a minority of students.
A	8	85 – 89
A-	7	80 – 84
B+	6	77 – 79	Very good, good and solid performance.
B	5	73 – 76

B-	4	70 – 72	A B+, B, or B- is earned by work that indicates a good comprehension of the course material, a good command of the skills needed to work with the course material, and the student's full engagement with the course requirements and activities. A B+ represents a more complex understanding and/or application of the course material. Normally achieved by the largest number of students.
C+ C	3 2	65 – 69 60 – 64	Satisfactory, or minimally satisfactory performance. A C+ or C is earned by work that indicates an adequate comprehension of the course material and the skills needed to work with the course material and that indicates the student has met the basic requirements for completing assigned work and/or participating in class activities.
D	1	50 – 59	Marginal Performance. A D is earned by work that indicates minimal command of the course materials and/or minimal participation in class activities.
F	0	0-49	Unsatisfactory Performance. F is earned by work, which after the completion of course requirements, is inadequate.
I	0	0-49	Incomplete Did not complete course requirements by the end of term or session.

General Assessment Criteria for Assignments:

- a) Are all requirements of the assignment fulfilled?
- b) Are course readings and materials and/or additional resources utilized as per the requirements of the assignment? Are all my sources, paraphrased and direct quotations properly cited?
- c) Is the writing and style appropriate to the assignment? Is it well organized? Is your thesis clear? Are points and arguments clearly articulated and easy to follow? Was formatting, grammar and spelling checked before submission?
- d) Does the assignment demonstrate good comprehension of concepts and course material?
- e) Does the assignment demonstrate thoughtfulness and depth of engagement with the material and topic? Have you developed and articulated your own analysis well?

Each of the above criteria can

- Not be met: If all or most are not met this will result in a failing grade.
- Be met adequately: If all or most are met at least adequately this will translate into a minimum 50% D up to a C grade.
- Be met well: If most or many are met well this will translate into a C+ to B+ grade.
- Be met outstandingly: If most or many are met outstandingly this will translate into an A- to A+ grade.

Academic Integrity & Plagiarism

Academic integrity is intellectual honesty and responsibility for academic work that you submit individually or as a member of a group.

If an incidence of academic dishonesty (intentional or unintentional) is found, I will notify the student and Indigenous Studies Chair within five business days of noting the issue. You will have the opportunity to discuss the issue with me before any penalty is determined. This penalty can include but is not limited to redoing or revising the assignment if deemed unintentional or receiving a 0 on the assignment. For each incident the appropriate course of action will be decided in consultation with the Indigenous Studies Chair.

As an instructor I refer to Camosun Arts & Science's outline of what academic honesty and dishonesty includes and to help me assess the appropriate action for specific issues. Please see their policy for details and examples here:

- <http://camosun.ca/learn/school/arts-science/images/Arts%20and%20Science%20Academic%20Honesty%20Guidelines.pdf>

One problem area for many students is proper citation and working with quotations. The Writing Centre and library have resources to help you with this including videos and tutorials on citation, academic integrity and plagiarism:

COLLEGE-WIDE POLICIES, PROCEDURES, REQUIREMENTS, AND STANDARDS

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The College is committed to providing appropriate and reasonable academic accommodations to students with disabilities (i.e. physical, depression, learning, etc). If you have a disability, the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) can help you document your needs, and where disability-related barriers to access in your courses exist, create an accommodation plan. By making a plan through CAL, you can ensure you have the appropriate academic accommodations you need without disclosing your diagnosis or condition to course instructors. Please visit the CAL website for contacts and to learn how to get started: <http://camosun.ca/services/accessible-learning/>

Academic Integrity

Mandatory Attendance for First Class Meeting of Each Course

Camosun College requires mandatory attendance for the first class meeting of each course. If you do not attend, and do not provide your instructor with a reasonable reason in advance, you will be removed from the course and the space offered to the next waitlisted student. For more information, please see the “Attendance” section under “Registration Policies and Procedures” (<http://camosun.ca/learn/calendar/current/procedures.html>) and the Grading Policy at <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-1-programming-and-instruction/e-1.5.pdf>.

Medical / Compassionate Withdrawals

Students who are incapacitated and unable to complete or succeed in their studies by virtue of serious and demonstrated exceptional circumstances may be eligible for a medical/compassionate withdrawal. Please visit <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.8.pdf> to learn more about the process involved in a medical/compassionate withdrawal.

Sexual Violence and Misconduct

Camosun is committed to creating a campus culture of safety, respect, and consent. Camosun’s Office of Student Support is responsible for offering support to students impacted by sexual violence. Regardless of when or where the sexual violence or misconduct occurred, students can access support at Camosun. The Office of Student Support will make sure students have a safe and private place to talk and will help them understand what supports are available and their options for next steps. The Office of Student Support respects a student’s right to choose what is right for them. For more information see Camosun’s Sexualized Violence and Misconduct Policy: <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.9.pdf> and camosun.ca/sexual-violence. Student Misconduct (Non-Academic)

Camosun College is committed to building the academic competency of all students, seeks to empower students to become agents of their own learning, and promotes academic belonging for everyone. Camosun also expects that all students to conduct themselves in a manner that contributes to a positive, supportive, and safe learning environment. Please review Camosun College’s Student Misconduct Policy at <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/education-academic/e-2-student-services-and-support/e-2.5.pdf> to understand the College’s expectations of academic integrity and student behavioural conduct.

Changes to this Syllabus: Every effort has been made to ensure that information in this syllabus is accurate at the time of publication. The College reserves the right to change courses if it becomes necessary so that course content remains relevant. In such cases, the instructor will give the students clear and timely notice of the changes.
