COURSE SCHEDULE, TOPICS, AND ASSOCIATED PREPARATION / ACTIVITY / EVALUATION

Schedule provided by instructor (and in D2L Content).

This course is a blended delivery (on-campus and online); both aspects are equally valued and developed to enhance student skills and knowledge acquisition. Learning formats in Mental Health & Addiction (MHA) Program courses include discussions, peer interactions, student-directed research, in-person and video skill development, role-play, and critical thinking activities. Performance indicators of outcomes include activities such as team/group collaboration, task-sharing, and individual/group presentations.

STUDENT EVALUATION

Assignment	Weight
Academic Integrity Training Course (D2L) – must be completed first week of course	COM/NC
Content Reflections (Dropbox) & Discussion Posts (Discussion Forums)	68%
Community Resources - Planning, Interview & Report, Sharing, Binder	24%
Mental Health Act	8%
Other activities/skills to demonstrate outcomes (e.g., in-class assignment follow-up)	COM/UC
TOTAL	100%

Assignments will be used during class activities following due date and may include marks.

Details of assignments provided in class and D2L Content. Directions will include APA writing and format (e.g., headings, spacing, citations); other elements for grading include spelling, grammar, and length adherence. Resources for writing, formatting, and referencing are posted in D2L Content and are available at Camosun Writing Centre and Library.

Assignments must be submitted in hardcopy in class and/or electronically in Word or PDF format (see specific assignments for details); OpenOffice users can “save as” Microsoft Word (.doc/x) before posting electronically. Students are responsible for maintaining electronic copies of all submitted work until completion of MHA Program (coursework from one course may inform another). Students are encouraged to use the D2L Locker for work in-progress until submitted.

All assignments and learning activities, including for missed class content, must be submitted within 24 hours of the last scheduled class and demonstrate knowledge and skill at a grade level of “C” or higher for consideration toward successful completion of the course. This includes D2L posts, in-class assignments, participation in skill development/labs, and presentation attendance/responses. We support students to demonstrate competencies to successfully pass a course. If original submission does not achieve a mark of 60%, the student must re-submit to demonstrate knowledge/skill at “C” or higher.

Expectations of Learners

This document includes policies to facilitate professional practice, including punctuality, accountability, effectual interpersonal behaviors (e.g., listening, acknowledging others, and emotional maturity), and demonstration of knowledge, skills, congenial teamwork, and decorum.

Students are to arrive to synchronous online and on-campus classes, as well as asynchronous activities with instructors and peers, ready to contribute their knowledge and insights, having completed preparation activities to create a positive and effective learning environment. Because the MHA Program prepares graduates for professional roles in the community, students are to practice positive interpersonal behavior in campus and online environments with peers and faculty (e.g., informing others if arriving late). Professional behavior demonstrates readiness for practicum and graduate roles by contributing to a respectful atmosphere in all settings.

Participation

Due to the short and intense nature of the MHA program, classes are planned as a continuum for building skills and knowledge required to meet the competencies for working in community mental health & addiction services. Assignments, D2L activities, and class sessions are integrated and necessary for meeting learning outcomes.

Participation in campus and D2L settings includes:

- Pre-class preparation completion, including reading materials as indicated in course Schedule
- Arriving to classes and activities on time with regular attendance; as professional etiquette, late arrivals and absences are to be communicated to the instructor prior to class start time
- Effective interpersonal communication and engagement skills including active listening, respectful dialogue, attentiveness during presentations, and constructive and appropriate comments in class

Missed class time (on-campus and online synchronous):

- If a student is absent from all or part of a scheduled class, they are expected to complete prescribed learning activities to demonstrate outcomes for missed content (due before start of next class). Activities reflect knowledge and skills aligned with the session (e.g., viewing a video, collaborative groupwork). This ensures all learners experience the same content. Instructors must be confident that skills and knowledge meet competencies and learning outcomes for the field (i.e., every class is relevant).
- All missed content activities must be submitted for a final grade to be posted on myCamosun; delay may negatively impact a student's ability to register in post-requisite courses (e.g., MHA 140 Practicum).
- Repeated absence from class times will be discussed with the student. Successful course completion will be jeopardized if more than 15% of class time is missed (e.g., 6.75 hours for a 3-credit/45 hr. course).

Technology

- Cellphones and other electronic devices are to be out-of-sight with alerts/ringers turned off while the class is in-session. The only exception is computers for purposes of note-taking with a pre-arranged Center for Accessible Learning (CAL) accommodation. Students may have difficulty disengaging and the continuous checking or distraction of the sounds and screen light deter from the classroom experience for the student and those in the vicinity. In practice, workers who use their phones for personal use are not present and engaged with their client; we discourage this and expect professional behavior of students as they prepare for moving into practicum and graduate roles. We are encouraging a respectful atmosphere of "disconnect and connect".
- During online synchronous sessions, cameras are to be on unless instructor indicates otherwise. Please mute microphones at start of sessions; instructors will guide the use of technology as the class progresses. Apps (e.g., WhatsApp, Skype), phones, and webpages other than D2L are to be closed.
- Students are strongly discouraged from starting pages or communicating on social media platforms (e.g., Instagram, Facebook, Group chats) due to the exclusionary nature and other reasons covered in orientation. D2L includes tools for student-to-student communication; at times, demonstration of course outcomes includes group work and communication in D2L Discussion forums..

Due Dates – see Schedule and D2L (e.g., Dropbox, Content unit headings)

Due dates are thoughtfully determined to maximize the application of concepts to demonstrate mastery as well as to provide a foundation to build on further course content (most courses are progressive in nature). Timing of due dates is significant: we want to avoid a student getting behind on assignments and learning activities as it may hinder a strong context for subsequent course concepts. To relate this to human services, those you are supporting may find it challenging to learn new concepts unless foundational knowledge is first attained.

Assignments are to be uploaded electronically to the designated area (e.g., Dropbox) by 10pm on the due date, unless otherwise specified. This ensures that work is completed as a foundation for content in the following class. Some assignments also submitted in hardcopy at the start of class the next day.

Late Policy

We recognize that there are multiple factors that could impact a student's ability to complete assignments on time. It is assumed that students work diligently, may forego other enjoyable activities, and employ good time management skills to meet deadlines. Even with the best intentions and strategies, unexpected situations can arise. Instructors hold no judgment of students who make the decision to take a day or two more to complete an assignment. The late deduction is often well-worth gaining extra time to complete the assignment with better learning outcomes and decreased stress.

In fairness to all students, late assignments 15 minutes or more past due time are deducted 5% per 24-hour period. Students with a Letter of Accommodation from the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) must have identified arrangements negotiated with the instructor at least 48 hours before due time. Typically, an extra two calendar days will be granted.

For those without a Letter of Accommodation, the deduction is on the mark obtained. For example, if a student achieves 18/20 and work submitted up to 24 hours late, the deduction is .9 (18 x 5%). If two days late, the deduction is 1.8 (18 x 10%).

Late deduction marks are applied for days an assignment is initially late, as well as days after the instructor returns an assignment for re-submission (see details under Student Evaluation). Assignments over 20 days past due do not earn marks (20 days x 5% = 100% deduction) but must be completed and assessed at a 60% knowledge/skill level. The intention is that a student demonstrates passing level knowledge/skill but they are not advantaged over other students who submitted their work on time and exceeded 60%.

Students are to send a brief email to the instructor before the class for which the assignment is due, as it may impact an activity that builds on the work. There is no need to explain; instructors know there are many circumstances that effect a student's ability to complete on time.
