COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

1. There are two lectures each week that everyone attends, from 10:30 to 11:20 on Wednesdays and Fridays. Each student also attends one seminar, 11:30 – 12:20 on either Wednesday or Friday. Please check your registration to find out which seminar is yours.
2. There will be short hand written assignments completed in each seminar. Please bring paper and a dark pencil or blue or black pen. At least eight seminar assignments must be submitted to earn a passing grade for this work. Additionally, the work must show that the student has acquired the basic skills by the end of term.
3. If you get behind on the assignments, please speak to me as soon as possible to make arrangements for late submissions. The opportunity to make up missed work is limited.
4. The course content is naturally cumulative. The content of the first chapter of the book is directly relevant to the later chapters.
5. Students do not have my permission to record lectures. Students do not have my permission to take any photos in the classroom. If digital aids are necessary for you, please see me in advance of their use. I will make arrangements to accommodate real needs.
6. In addition to my office hours, I plan to be in the Wilna Thomas Building on Mondays from 11am-12pm. I will just be there for coffee and available in case anyone wants to talk philosophy, with me or other students; this is a place we can meet.
