COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

ASSIGNED READINGS

All of the assigned readings for this course are from the course textbook. The Course Schedule above lists the specific chapters and subsections of the textbook that you are to read each week. You should complete these assigned readings prior to class so that you can fully contribute to discussions of the material. Concept notes, available in D2L Content, list the names of the concepts and their associated points (taken from the assigned readings) that you will need to know for quizzes and exams. However, it is recommended that you read all of the information in the assigned readings and not just rely upon these concept notes since the organization, figures, and additional information contained within the course textbook will help improve your overall understanding of the concepts.

ONLINE QUIZZES

To help ensure you are familiar enough with the concepts from the assigned readings to be able to engage in in-depth discussions of them in class, before each lecture day you should complete in D2L the online quiz for that lecture. All quizzes will cover solely the material from the assigned readings that the concept notes contain. Each quiz will ask 20 questions about randomly chosen concept points on a given lecture topic. Each question on the quizzes will describe one of the concept points and ask for the name of that concept. The format of the quizzes will be matching-type questions, with each question listing alphabetically as answer options the names of all the concepts from the relevant lecture and you will be instructed to match the given concept description with its concept name. Half of the quiz questions will be knowledge-type questions which use for descriptions of the concepts the same wording as the points in the concept notes, while the other half of quiz questions will be understanding-type questions which reword these points usually in the form of a real-life scenario. You can access each online quiz through D2L Quizzes and take it an unlimited number of times up until its deadline (see the Course Schedule above), with only the highest score you achieve recorded as your mark for that quiz. In addition to being worth marks, the online quizzes will also help prepare you for in-class quizzes and exams since they cover the same content from the concept notes, although they use different scenarios for the understanding-type questions.

IN-CLASS QUIZZES

The format of the in-class quizzes will be the same as the online quizzes described above except that they will be in-class, closed-book (i.e., no notes allowed), and you will only be given a single attempt at each of them.

EXAMS

Exams will be the same format as the in-class quizzes (as described above) except that they will be longer (~50 questions) and cover multiple lecture topics. The content of the questions will cover equally the concepts from each lecture topic that the exam is designed to assess your knowledge/understanding of. You will only be given a single attempt at each exam.

ASSIGNMENTS

The assignments for this course are computer programs called AppliedGames, which are available in D2L Content and are designed to have you apply your knowledge from this course to solve simulated real-life problems. You can do each AppliedGame multiple times until you are satisfied with your score on it and then submit to D2L Assignments your best results for marks. Slightly different scenarios are randomly given each time you attempt an AppliedGame so that your understanding of its concepts is tested and not just your ability to memorize answers.

DEADLINES

The Course Schedule above lists the specific dates for when the quizzes/exams/assignments are due. Failing to take an exam by its scheduled date will result in a score of zero for that exam. Exceptions may be granted at the discretion of the instructor for demonstrated cases of hardship or extenuating circumstances (e.g., a medical emergency). In contrast to the hard deadlines for exams, the marks from quizzes not completed by their deadlines will automatically be waived and their weight distributed proportionately to the remaining course items. Assignments may be submitted for marks past their soft deadlines without late penalties until the last day of labs has passed, at which point any missed assignments will receive a score of zero.
