COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Lecture Attendance

Students are expected to attend all classes and be on time. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to acquire all information given during that class, including notes, hand-outs, changed exam dates, announcements, etc.

Technology

Exams:

No electronic devices are allowed during exams. This includes, but is not limited to; computers, electronic dictionaries, electronic translators, cell phones, tablets, and other personal electronic devices.

Class:

Student's use of laptops/tablets in class is restricted to note taking. Students using their laptops/tablets for other purposes will have their laptop privileges revoked.

All cell phones must be turned off during class (Unless prior permission is obtained).

Students may not use recording devices in the classroom without prior permission of the instructor. Should permission for recordings be granted, these recordings are for the student's personal use only, and distribution of recorded material is prohibited.

Exam Procedures

All exams must be written at the scheduled times with the exception of students requiring an accommodation by CAL (Centre for Accessible Learning). It is understood that emergency circumstances do occur (e.g. severe illness or family emergency); for such circumstances accommodation may be offered at the discretion of the instructor, provided the student: a) notifies the instructor in advance of the exam (not after), and b) provides documented evidence of the circumstance (e.g. medical certificate).

If an exam is missed with an excused absence, it is up to the instructor's discretion as to how the mark will be made up.

Be sure not to make travel plans for the end of semester until the final exam schedules are finalized and posted. Please ask any family members who might make travel plans on your behalf to consult you before booking tickets.

Studying

You should plan on a weekly minimum of 6 hours outside of scheduled class time for the completion of readings, assignments, and for general studying.

Reviewing, filling out, and editing your lecture notes right after class is recommended.

Contact the instructor to clarify any confusing concepts.

Distributed studying has been proven to be far more effective than massed practice (cramming).

Testing yourself on the material (answering questions) is far superior to simply rereading notes/textbook.

Written Assignments

Purpose: For the student to experience and reflect on the skills and ideas of the course.

Marks will be based on accuracy, completeness, and especially depth of reflection/analysis.

Length: 400-500 words (please include a word count at the end) Double spaced. Include a title page.

Submission: drop box in the class's D2L page by 4pm of due date

Late assignments are penalized 5% per day. No work will be accepted 1 week following the due date.

Feedback. If you'd like to get general feedback on your paper before final submission bring me a copy 48hrs or more beforehand and I will go over it with you.

The questions below are to stimulate your analysis/reflection. Do not simply answer the questions. Write a coherent paper.

1. Listening skills (10%)

Audio record a 10 minute (continuous) conversation between you and a friend where you demonstrate your listening skills.

Get their permission prior to recording. Explain that it is an assignment for this class.

At the beginning of the recording, clearly state your name, and that you are the student in this class.

Some example conversation topics are included in the student handbook (page 7).

During this conversation you will use the most important listening skills in this course: Attention, Minimal encouragers, Paraphrases, and Asking relevant questions.

You must use a minimum of 2 full paraphrases in this conversation. If you do not, you must redo it.

Thank them for helping you complete this assignment.

Listen to the recording and analyze your listening skills.

Written report:

Provide a short, 1-2 sentence introductory paragraph. Each subsequent paragraph should address each essential skill; paying attention, minimal encouragers, paraphrases, asking questions. For each you will share a few select examples of what you did (with specific examples), then an analysis: were they appropriate, how well you did them, and what could be improved.

Submit the audio file (MP3) and the paper (no .pages format please) into the D2L drop box.

2. Course impact (5%)

What facts, ideas, values, or concepts (page 6 of your student handbook provides a partial list) have you learned in this course that are the most meaningful/important to you? Why?

What impact has this course had on you? Reference specific changes in your behaviours or relationships as well as specific skills that have been most useful to you.
