COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Lecture Attendance

Students are expected to attend all classes and be on time. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to acquire all information given during that class, including notes, hand-outs, changed exam dates, announcements, etc.

Technology

Exams:

No electronic devices are allowed during exams. This includes, but is not limited to; headphones, computers, electronic dictionaries, electronic translators, cell phones, tablets, and other personal electronic devices.

Class:

Student's use of laptops/tablets in class is restricted to note taking. Students using their laptops/tablets for other purposes will have their laptop privileges revoked.

All cell phones must be turned off and put away during class (Unless prior permission is obtained).

Students may not use recording devices in the classroom without prior permission of the instructor. Should permission for recordings be granted, these recordings are for the student's personal use only, and distribution of recorded material is prohibited.

Exam Procedures

All exams must be written at the scheduled times with the exception of students requiring an accommodation by CAL (Centre for Accessible Learning). It is understood that emergency circumstances do occur (e.g. severe illness or family emergency); for such circumstances accommodation may be offered at the discretion of the instructor, provided the student: a) notifies the instructor in advance of the exam (not after), and b) provides documented evidence of the circumstance (e.g. medical certificate).

If an exam is missed with an excused absence, it is up to the instructor's discretion as to how the mark will be made up.

Be sure not to make travel plans for the end of semester until the final exam schedules are finalized and posted. Please ask any family members who might make travel plans on your behalf to consult you before booking tickets.

Studying

You should plan on a weekly minimum of 6 hours outside of scheduled class time for the completion of readings, assignments, and for general studying.

Reviewing, filling out, and editing your lecture notes right after class is recommended.

Contact the instructor to clarify any confusing concepts.

Distributed studying has been proven to be far more effective than massed practice (cramming).

Testing yourself on the material (answering questions) is far superior to simply rereading notes/textbook.

Written Assignments

Purpose: For the student to experience and reflect on the skills and ideas of the course.

Marks will be based on accuracy, completeness, and especially depth of reflection/analysis.

Double spaced. Include a title page.

Submission: drop box in the class's D2L page by 4pm of due date

Late assignments are penalized 5% per day. No work will be accepted 1 week following the due date.

Feedback. If you'd like to get general feedback on your paper before final submission bring me a copy no later than 2 days before it is due and I will go over it with you.

1. Listening skills (10%)

Recorded conversation:

Audio record a 10-minute (continuous) conversation between you and a friend where you demonstrate your listening skills. (It might take more than one attempt)

Get their permission prior to recording. Explain that it is an assignment for this class.

At the beginning of the recording, clearly state your name, and that you are the student in this class.

Select an important topic to discuss and ask for their views first. (Some additional conversation topics are included in the student handbook page 7. Do not simply ask them these questions one after the other.)

During this conversation you will use the most important listening skills in this course: Attention, Minimal encouragers, Paraphrases, and Asking relevant questions. (others may also occur)

At the end thank them for helping you complete this assignment.

You will use a variety of responses in this conversation, but you must use a minimum of 2 full paraphrases. If you do not, you must redo it.

Written report and modified transcript:

Listen to your conversation to complete the two part report.

Part 1: Modified transcript

Write down, in order, each of your substantial responses/key listening skills used in the conversation. Write them out exactly as you said them – not as you wished you had said them.

Give a one sentence general overview of what your partner was saying prior to your substantial response.

Categorize each response. Was it a question, Perception check, paraphrase, empathetic response, supportive response, comment, self disclosure, analysis, advice (avoid these last 2), etc.

Part 2: Analysis

Paragraph 1: a short, 1-2 sentence introductory paragraph for this report. (Your relationship to them, topic discussed)

Paragraph 2: write down each distinct minimal encouragers you used throughout the entire conversation and how many times you used each. Then provide a 2-3 sentence analysis on what you notice.

Paragraph 3: 'Paying attention' describe how you did this nonverbally, then discuss your ability to stay mentally focused.

Paragraph 4: Identify two of the paraphrases in your transcript and provide an analysis of each. Address things like: was it appropriate or not - why, well timed or not - why, how well/poorly you did it, and what could be improved, etc.

Paragraph 5: Identify two of the questions in your transcript and provide an analysis of each. Address things like: was it appropriate or not - why, sensitive, relevant, well timed or not - why, how well/poorly you did it, and what could be improved, etc. Do not simply answer each of these – write a coherent paragraph.

Paragraph 6: Comment on other shortcomings you noticed and what you should have done to correct them. Provide a general reflection on your overall listening skills.

Submit the audio file (MP3), and the modified transcript/analysis (no .pages format please) into the D2L drop box.

2. Course impact (5%)

Select 2 or 3 facts, ideas, values, skills, or concepts you have learned in this course that are the most meaningful/important to you (page 6 of your student handbook provides a partial list). Analyze and discuss why each are important to you.

These questions are to stimulate your analysis/reflection. What specific skills or ideas have been most useful to you? What has the impact been on your thoughts, feelings, beliefs, values, actions, etc.? Why has it been so impactful? Concretely describe specific events or changes in your behaviours or relationships as a result of these ideas, skills.

Do not simply answer each of these questions in your report. They are offered to stimulate your thinking. What you need to express should drive the paper. Include only the important experiences and things you've learned. Write a coherent paper. Length 400-500 words. Include a word count at the end.

Please reread the section under 'Written assignments' above.
