d) explain the value and limitations of collaborative work

During this course, students will read short stories and poems by a cross-section of world writers, past and present. They will also read and analyze a selected novel and a play. Students will examine the themes and techniques used in the readings and learn to recognize how literature relates to the concerns and relationships all people share.

Instruction will be given in the general principles of effective writing with special attention to the elements essential to writing about literature. Writing about literature requires 1) an understanding of the text, 2) an analytical and critical analysis of what is read, 3) the knowledge of specific technical terms and the ability to explain them, 4) the ability to respond clearly to specific questions, and 5) the ability to propose an idea or opinion and support it with specific references to the text, both orally and in writing. These five skills are all crucial to success in most academic or professional environments, so the study of literature is an integral part of any student's education.
