Student Responsibilities

Attendance and Punctuality

- Regular attendance and class preparedness are essential for the successful completion of this course. If you must be absent from a class, it is your responsibility to catch up on missed work. Find a buddy or two at the beginning of term and swap contact details so you can get the information you missed.
- If you miss a test or the due date of an assignment, you must inform the instructor before the class. You will need a doctor's note for permission to write at a later date.
- Come to class on time—arriving late is disruptive. Students arriving late may be denied permission to join the class.

Electronics

- No cellphones, laptops, translators, or other electronic devices are allowed in class without the permission of the instructor. Electronics should be turned off and kept out of sight.

Assignments

- Students are responsible for reading assigned materials carefully before class and to be ready to participate in class activities, group work, and discussions. Completion of all major assignments is mandatory to successfully complete the course.
- Assignments are due in person on the day they are scheduled at the beginning of class. Computer problems are not an excuse. Do not email assignments except in extenuating circumstances and with the prior approval of the instructor. Assignments handed in late will receive a 10% deduction and will not receive written feedback. Assignments will not be accepted one week after the deadline or beyond the class completion date. Once marked assignments have been returned to the class, late ones will no longer be accepted for submission without approval of the instructor.
- Please keep a photocopy or electronic copy of all the assignments you submit in case work is lost, damaged, or misplaced. Also, save all graded assignments until the completion of the course.

Instructor Contact

- You are encouraged to come by my office during posted office hours. I'm always happy to chat about literature, grammar, writing, drafts, the course, etc. with students. If you can't make the office hours, let me know and we'll find a time that fits us both.
- Use email for short and simple questions only. I won't comment on assignment drafts over email or provide a summary on a lesson you have missed. If I haven't responded to your email within 24 hours Monday-Friday, assume I didn't get it and resend.

Classroom Community

- All class members are responsible for helping to create a respectful, supportive, collaborative, enjoyable, and productive learning environment. Students are expected to speak and act with integrity and sensitivity, mindful of how one's words, actions, and attitudes affect others. Students are expected to listen carefully with an open mind, valuing differing viewpoints.

Plagiarism

Students are expected to do their own writing and use their own ideas (unless properly cited) on all assignments. You may get feedback on your writing from the English Help Centre (Indeed, I highly recommend you get feedback from the Help Centre for any take-home writing assignments). However, copying another person's writing; having someone else write all or even part of your composition; using another person's ideas without acknowledgement; and using another's sentence structures, while merely replacing words and phrases, are all plagiarism and will incur any or all of the penalties stated in the college calendar.

Any student found to have cheated on any assignment will automatically receive a mark of 0 on that assignment, and any instances of plagiarism may incur more severe penalties as outlined in the college calendar.
