Further Information

- Time Management. This class is structured to be approximately six to eight hours per week, apart from essay writing and research. Staying on top of the work is essential to successfully complete this course; therefore, it's necessary to manage your time well and to schedule time two to three times a week to complete the course.
- Weekly Modules. Each week has a module consisting of a combination of readings, videos, grammar, exercises, assignments, and discussion questions for the forum. You are responsible for completing all mandatory module components on a weekly basis. There will be optional course elements as well, including real-time connections, for those wanting more connection with members of the class and extra practice.
- Discussion Forum. The Discussion forum is an essential component for creating a communicative environment that simulates an open classroom. This forum has two parts:
 - 1) It's a space where we will hold regular class discussions in response to class readings
 - 2) It's a place for you to ask questions of me and of your classmates. If you have a question, likely others do too, so please post your questions here.
- Assignments. Assignments are due on the dates and times listed on the schedule. Late assignments will receive a 10% deduction and will not receive feedback. Assignments will not be accepted one week after the deadline or beyond the class completion date without prior approval of the instructor. All writing assignments must be completed to receive a passing grade in the course.
 - Do not email assignments except in extenuating circumstances and with the prior approval of the instructor. Instead, assignments must be uploaded in D2L.

Instructor Contact

- Office Hours. You are encouraged to come chat with me during scheduled office hours, when I will be available on Collaborate in D2L. Here, we can talk face-to-face or use just the audio or chat components. I'm always happy to chat about grammar, writing, drafts, literature, the course, etc. with students. Come see me! If the posted office hours don't fit, let me know and we'll find a time that suits us both.

- Keep me in the loop. If something is occurring in your life making it difficult to impossible to keep up with the course, let me know. Perhaps we can figure out a way for you to complete the course. Don't silently disappear!
- Email. Please use email for short and simple questions only. I won't comment on assignment drafts over email, but I'm happy to look at your work during office hours using Collaborate where we can discuss your assignment together.
 - If I haven't responded to your email within 24 hours Monday-Friday, assume I didn't get it and resend. (I'm never ignoring you 😊)

Classroom Community

- We are all responsible for creating a respectful, supportive, collaborative, enjoyable, and productive online learning environment. Class members are expected to participate with integrity and sensitivity, mindful of how one's words, actions, and attitudes affect others, and are expected to consider other viewpoints with an open mind, valuing differing viewpoints.

Inspired by S. Quigley.

Plagiarism

Students are expected to do their own writing and use their own ideas (unless properly cited) on all assignments. You may get feedback on your writing from the English Help Centre (Indeed, I highly recommend you get feedback from the Help Centre for any take-home writing assignments). However, copying another person's writing; having someone else write all or even part of your composition; using another person's ideas without acknowledgement; and using another's sentence structures, while merely replacing words and phrases, are all plagiarism and will incur any or all of the penalties stated in the college calendar.

Any student found to have cheated on any assignment will incur penalties as outlined in the college calendar.
