COURSE DESCRIPTION

An examination of the structure, organization, policies and practices of the Canadian correctional system. This includes the historical development of this enterprise and discussion of the correctional mandate, programs, outcomes, and contemporary issues facing the system.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

The primary objective of this course is to engage students in a critical examination of the services that exist at the federal, provincial, community and private levels in Canada. This includes a review of the range of services that combine to provide for the care and control of persons receiving sentences from the courts in Canada. The role of prisons, parole, probation, and community-based corrections will be analyzed in depth from both theoretical and applied perspectives. Factors in the analysis include:

- The legal mandate of the CSC
- A description of the operation and delivery of services, policies, and practices
- Types of rehabilitation programs
- The interrelationship between the various agencies
- Current issues in Corrections

TEACHING OBJECTIVES:

1. To present a detailed description of contemporary correctional services.
2. To identify the impact of legal, political, operational and program factors on the function of correctional services.
3. To identify the major social and legal issues confronting correctional services today which may influence correctional practice in the future.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

During this course, you will work to develop the ability to:

1. Identify, describe and demonstrate an understanding of the various agencies that comprise corrections.
2. Identify and describe the various legislative mandates of the correctional services provided in Canada.
3. Identify, describe and discuss the major strategies utilized in Canadian corrections.
4. Analyze and discuss various critical issues challenging the correctional system.
5. Understand the problems associated with fulfilling the correctional mandate.

In order to successfully achieve the stated learning outcomes, it is expected that students will attend all classes and that, on average, students will spend three hours of outside class preparation for each hour of in-class instruction.

Grade Distribution:

A+	=	95-100%	B-	=	70-74
A	=	90-94	C+	=	65-69

This course is considered a Criminal Justice core course and therefore a student must achieve a C grade or better to receive transfer credit.

What do the grades mean?

- A: Designating a “superior level of achievement”, a letter grade of A is awarded to the student who surpasses course expectations by doing additional reading and research, and by providing well thought-out and clearly expressed ideas on exams and assignments. The student demonstrates outstanding organizational, analytical and critical thinking skills, as well as added resourcefulness in meeting course requirements.
- B: Designating a “high level of achievement”, a letter grade of B is awarded to the student who exhibits substantial comprehension of course reading and lecture materials and is able to reflect this knowledge orally and in writing. The student demonstrates analytical thinking skills and clearly performs above average in meeting course requirements.
- C: Designating a satisfactory or “sufficient level of achievement”, a letter grade of C is awarded to the student who completes all course requirements and has a competent understanding of the course materials. Further improvement is attainable with effort and refined reading, writing, analytical, and organizational skills.
- D: Designating a “minimum level of achievement”, a letter grade of D is awarded to the student who generally performs below average, does not show signs of having read the assigned readings or is unable to present ideas in writing in sufficient clarity or detail. The student may need remedial assistance to improve reading/writing skills.
- F: Designating “below minimum level of achievement”, a letter grade of F is awarded to the student who fails to meet all or most course requirements. This may be due to poor attendance, hastily prepared assignments, not having done the readings or some other correctable problem.

3. Examination Date Changes
No provision will be made to write a test earlier or later than originally scheduled. The mid-term and final exam must be written at the times and on the dates assigned. A student will only be allowed to write a missed test by providing a valid medical certificate attesting to the fact that s/he was ill (or suffered an accident) at the time of the assigned test. In addition, the student who misses a test due to illness must inform the instructor on or before the date of the test of the reason for her/his absence.

Note: Students arriving thirty minutes or more after a course exam has commenced will not be permitted to write the exam.
4. Late Penalty
All assignments must be completed on the date assigned. All late written assignments will be penalized by 20% of the total mark per day. The starting point for penalty assessment is immediately after written assignments are received by the instructor at the beginning of class. Students having a legitimate concern about meeting the due dates should consult with the instructor well in advance.
5. Written Assignment Requirements

Plagiarism includes the use of quotes, or another author's words, without using quotation marks or giving a proper reference citation to the original author. Plagiarism also includes failing to document the source(s) of paraphrased information/ideas.

Plagiarism is considered a serious academic offense. If plagiarism is documented by your instructor, the penalty will be an automatic "0" for that assignment.

8. Cheating/Academic Dishonesty/Student Conduct

The Criminal Justice Department has a clearly articulated policy on cheating and student conduct, as does the College. Cheating may result in suspension and the potential loss of a career in the criminal justice field. Please refer to a current College Calendar and the Criminal Justice Orientation Manual.

The College appeals process is outlined on pages 38 of the 2004/2005 Camosun College Calendar.
