2. Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

- 1. Outline the part played by gender in the writing of Canadian history.
- 2. Describe critical themes, events, and issues in the history of Canadian women from the First World War up to the present.
- 3. Explain the part played by gender ideology in constructing women's roles, status, and experience in twentieth-century Canada.
- 4. Examine women's paid and unpaid work and the impact of critical events such as the Depression, World War I and World War II on women's work.
- 5. Examine the challenges First Nations women faced in 20th Century Canada.
- 6. Examine the impact of racism on women's lives and learn how categories such as race and class determine experience.
- 7. Give details of women's participation in Canada's political institutions.
- 8. Give details of women's efforts for societal, legal, educational, and political reform.
- 9. Examine the changing form of feminism in the twentieth century and its impact on Canadian society.
- 10. Reassess traditional and existing perspectives on events, gender ideology, and issues important to twentieth-century women.
- 11. Demonstrate critical thinking skills about historical issues and writing by evaluating the arguments put forward by historians, weighing the evidence they present, and making judgments about the strength of their arguments.
- 12. Research and use history and preferred historical methods to examine the role of women in today's society, establishing a context for the present and detailing the accomplishments, failures, tensions, and issues of the present era.
- 13. Communicate clearly one's viewpoint orally and in writing.

4. Course Content and Schedule

Class location and hours:	Monday	206A and 206B	Y310	11:30 to 1:20
	Wednesday	206A	WT225	11:30 to 12:20
	Wednesday	206B	WT225	12:30 to 1:20

LECTURES: Lectures and films will be scheduled for Monday. Lectures and films contextualize and provide information not contained in the course readings. Students will be evaluated on the contents of lectures and films through a midterm and a final examination.

SEMINARS: On Wednesday, the class will meet as two seminar groups to discuss selected readings from Rethinking Canada, and the Course Readings Package. Seminar participation will make up 25% of the grade for this course. 15% will be given for oral participation in the seminar, and 10% for presenting a seminar paper. Students will be marked on active participation. Seminars require your interaction with the group; they cannot be "made up". If you miss more than three seminars, you will forfeit the oral participation mark.

Students are responsible for reading the assigned articles before the seminar. In order to facilitate discussion, students should be prepared to ask as well as to answer questions. Bring at least two questions to each seminar. Questions should draw the readings together or focus on problems with interpretations of historical data. For example, two authors might disagree on how to interpret a process or event. Your question would focus attention on why that might be so. A question might also pull together the common theme(s) of the seminar readings and ask how each author deals with the theme and why s/he interprets the evidence as s/he does.

EXAMINATIONS: Examinations help you to focus your reading and your thinking about history. To prepare for exams, attend lectures and read all course materials. When reading, take note of themes or issues discussed in lectures and discussion groups. There will be two exams: a midterm held on February 18 worth 20%, and a final held during the college's formal examination period worth 20% of your final grade.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS: You must complete two written assignments in History 206. Instructions for the assignments are appended to this course outline.

The first assignment is to write a 750 to 800 word critical article review worth 10% of your final grade. This article review will accompany your oral presentation and must be handed in at that seminar.

The second assignment is to write a 1000 to 1500-word analysis of The Concubine's Children worth 25% of your final grade. Focus on one of the following themes: women's work, women's roles within the family, or gender ideology. Follow that theme through the three generations of women discussed in this family history. The analysis is due on Monday, March 17.

Due Dates: Papers must be handed in to the instructor on the due date, either in class or in her office. Students will forfeit 5 marks per day for late papers. No essays may be handed in after the final class without prior permission of the instructor.

Format: All essays must be well written and well organized. Essays will be marked for grammar, clarity of writing, organization, content, and analysis. Keep a photocopy of each essay you submit until the final grades are posted. Papers must be double spaced, be prefaced by a cover page, and include a bibliography.

Footnotes and Bibliography: You must include adequate referencing of sources used in your essays. You must use and follow the citation format contained in the Camosun College History style guide. If you are uncertain about the correct referencing style, consult the instructor before handing in your essay. Failure to use the correct format will result in your paper being returned to you to rewrite. The 5 marksper-day late penalty will apply to all essays returned for rewrite.

Plagiarism and Cheating: Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and will result in your paper receiving a grade of 0. Plagiarism is easy to avoid provided that you acknowledge all scholarly material that is not your own work. You must do all your own research, you may not cut and paste from the internet, you may not quote from or use ideas from other people's work without acknowledging them in your foot/endnotes, you may not submit for this course a paper you have submitted for another, you may not submit on your own behalf a paper written by another person, and you may not cheat on any examination. As students will have the opportunity to ask about plagiarism in class, no excuses will be accepted.
