2. Intended Learning Outcomes

For a complete overview, students should also take FREN 114. These two courses may be taken in either sequence.

At the end of the course students will be able to

1. Communicate in French with confidence and competence in every day interactions.
2. Read contemporary cultural selections in French and summarize the main points.
3. Think and react quickly in French in the cultural context of French Canada and France.
4. Give their opinion, in French, about the problems, preoccupations and interests of today's French society, based on the material studied.

As French 112 is strictly an oral course without any written assignments, students who wish a balanced French program are encouraged to schedule this course simultaneously with French 120 as the two classes meet partly together.

3. Required Materials

Sold in the college bookstore :

Comeau / Lamoureux Ensemble : Grammaire (same text for FR 114, 120 & 121)

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

FREN 112 is a comprehensive program of in-class oral activities demanding a serious commitment and participation on the part of the student as it is based on out-of-class readings, written preparations and lab drills. It includes group presentations, role-playing, communications with individuals and small groups. Students take an active part in the implementation of the course.

Students will be evaluated on the basis of their class participation (30%), their preparation for class discussions and other activities (30%), and their oral presentations to the class as a whole (40% - 5% of which is a group mark based on the topics chosen for the oral presentations-).

Students are encouraged to review their progress with the instructor two or three times during the term.

Preparation for discussions and other activities

Students are expected to do the necessary reading and lab work associated with "Ensemble : Grammaire" and "Ensemble : Culture et Société" prior to class (see schedule p. 2), as well as any preparation agreed to in class. They are, of course, expected to be ready to make oral presentations as scheduled. (objective-subjective evaluation)

Class Participation

Participation is an objective-subjective evaluation of the quantity and quality of involvement which the student brought to small groups and to the class as a whole. It is marked after each class and averaged over the 22 best marks of the semester.

Oral Presentations

Students must always be ready to give a 5-minute presentation on Mondays with prior home and Lab preparation, and will be asked to give 2-minute presentations without prior preparation.

Oral presentations will be graded in terms of pronunciation, organization of material, vocabulary (level and semantics), syntax (word order), and morphology (necessary conjugations of tenses, masculine/feminine, singular/plural).

There usually are 4 "formal" presentations with lab prep. and 4 "spontaneous" presentations.

Students will get help from monitors in the Lab to organize material and rehearse their presentation. They must present one of their 5mn topics on a video cassette recorded with the Lab equipment and staff.

- (a) Assignments : 40%
Oral presentations
- (b) Class participation : 30%
- (c) Preparation for class activities : 30%

7. Recommended Materials or Services to Assist Students to Succeed Throughout the Course

Recommended texts: Le nouveau Bescherelle
Harrap's French-English Pocket dictionary
Reswick, Essential French Grammar

Supplementary texts and materials:

- reference encyclopedias and dictionaries of synonyms, antonyms, etc...
- newspapers, magazines and internet French sites (.fr)
- oral and written word games
- radios (web-radios)
- television programs
- resources in the French Lab (Y.209)

Open Lab in Y 209 : see lab time available for drop in, identified by :  on the schedule below.

The purpose of the Lab is to give students a chance to obtain help with assignments, rehearse oral presentations, work with A/V material and engage in various activities with monitors. Monitors working in the Lab are mostly Francophones trained by the instructor to help the students achieve their course and individual objectives and to provide enrichment activities and materials to suit students' performance, needs, and interests. Students are expected to spend a minimum of two hours per week in the Lab (Y 209).
