2. Intended Learning Outcomes

(No changes are to be made to these Intended Learning Outcomes as approved by the Education Council of Camosun College.)

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Articulate the basic principles, procedures and substantive areas of criminal law.
2. Identify the various sources of criminal law and critique the criminal justice system, its offences and defences.
3. Explore by the use of papers and other activities areas of criminal law that are of interest.
4. Articulate an appreciation of criminal law in practice by participating in a mock trial that as closely as possible replicates a true criminal trial.

3. Required Materials

1. Criminal Law in Canada, Cases Questions and the Code
 Simon N. Verdun Jones, Harcourt Brace

This fine book is available at your friendly bookstore. On the spot financing is available. Earlier editions are usable, but check with me. The text is carefully chosen to offer the best supplementary readings to the lectures.

2. A copy of a Criminal Code is helpful, but not needed. Use a current one – doesn't have to be new. The library (that's the big building with all the books) has a few Criminal Codes that you can access with your handy library card.

3. Crim 270 Annotated Casebook

This casebook is required. It is available in the bookstore for a minimal charge – cheaper than you could photocopy one. I update and annotate the casebook each summer - so do not get one from last year.

It is impossible to gauge the speed at which we will travel through this minefield, but you will always know where we just were and where we are about to go. If you are ever feeling lost either come and see me or call the SPCA.

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

Each course takes countless hours of development by our Research and Development team at the Six Mile Pub. Consultation with thousands of former students allows me to decide just how students in each term should be graded. Once we have received back the questionnaires that we mail to thousands of students, the results are tabulated and the final scores kept by Price Waterhouse. Based on this I then test-run assignments on student laboratory mice to see how the assignments work and if they are fair. This is not easy task. Finding mice that work the way students do, is tougher than it looks. And trying to differentiate between a student mouse and an adult worker mouse is a monumental task. The bottom line, therefore, is just to make sure that I, and the Research and Development mice, am happy.

Each assignment must be completed. If you do not complete an assignment you do not pass the course. Simple as that. We have a number of laboratory mice that missed one assignment, and we had to draw the line and execute them. And that's not a pretty sight.

Exams – There will be three. They will be true/false, multiple choice, and short answer. They are each worth 24%. The dates are as follows and can not be changed. If you miss an exam, you fail... nice and simple.

- 1st Exam – October 15th
- 2nd Exam – November 5th
- 3rd Exam – December 10th

Case Report – 28%. talk about fun! You have to partner up with someone you don't even like and make a case presentation. Here's how this works: you and your partner have to find a case that covers one of the defences or primary issues we discuss in class. It must, in other words, be relevant to the class and enlighten us on a specific issue we deal with in class. It has to be a case that is not in the case book or text book or that anyone else in class is using. Then you present your case to the class in a concise, understandable, ten minute presentation. You must sign up for your presentation day ASAP or a date will be assigned to you.

On the day of your presentation you must hand in to me a copy of the case AND a one page summary (headnote) of the case. It must be a concise, accurate, headnote. It must be one page, 12 pt, properly formatted, with a cover page.

This assignment is complete when you individually do a peer assessment of one other case presentation. You will be provided with a form for your peer assessment.

- Case picked – 5
- Presentation – 10
- Summary – 10

Mock Trial - bonus marks attributed for participation

One of the highlights of the term (other than the scintillating lectures) is the mock trial. This takes place at the courthouse or at the Maritime Museum in the oldest courthouse in B.C. Our mock trial will as accurately as possible resemble a real murder trial. Students will be the judge, lawyers, witnesses, jurors, and the accused. More details on this to follow.
