2. Intended Learning Outcomes

When reading Canadian literature, the student will be encouraged to make connections, evaluate works based on established critical criteria, and recognize both the general characteristics of Canadian literature as well as those of individual authors. Upon completion of this course the student will be able to

1. Analyze Canadian literature from the nineteenth century to the present, with emphasis on post 1950 works and the rich diversity of authors and works.
2. Evaluate a variety of genres, which may include poetry, short fiction, novels, drama, and essays, according to critical precepts appropriate to the specific genre.
3. Compare works such as those from E.J. Pratt, Earle Birney, Dorothy Livesey, P.K. Page, Al Purdy, Margaret Laurence, Margaret Atwood, Alice Munro, Timothy Findley, and Rohinton Mistry while applying concepts that demonstrate the development of Canadian literature. Note that individual instructors may put a slight change of focus in this course by choosing one author over another, but the general tenor of the course will remain the same.

When discussing Canadian literature, the student will be encouraged to develop their own interpretations of the works using a variety of critical methods and resources.

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to

1. Identify the socio-historical context of the works and relate the works to others as part of a literary continuum.
2. Identify and account for recurring themes in Canadian Literature.
3. Compare and contrast various works, authors, and styles within the context of the overall development of Canadian literature.
4. Distinguish between the subjective and objective aspects of works in order to formulate informed judgements about the works being discussed.
5. Identify the influence of dominant critical theories or movements in the contexts of the literature studied.

When writing about the literature, the student will be expected to demonstrate their understanding of the above issues and to explain, support, and illustrate their interpretations of literature in essays and a final examination. Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Support their work with relevant textual evidence.
2. Document sources using current MLA conventions.

Temporary Grades

Temporary grades are assigned for specific circumstances and will convert to a final grade according to the grading scheme being used in the course. See Grading Policy E-1.5 at camosun.ca for information on conversion to final grades, and for additional information on student record and transcript notations.

Temporary Grade	Description
I	Incomplete: A temporary grade assigned when the requirements of a course have not yet been completed due to hardship or extenuating circumstances, such as illness or death in the family.
IP	In progress: A temporary grade assigned for courses that, due to design may require a further enrollment in the same course. No more than two IP grades will be assigned for the same course. (For these courses a final grade will be assigned to either the 3 rd course attempt or at the point of course completion.)
CW	Compulsory Withdrawal: A temporary grade assigned by a Dean when an instructor, after documenting the prescriptive strategies applied and consulting with peers, deems that a student is unsafe to self or others and must be removed from the lab, practicum, worksite, or field placement.

7. Recommended Materials or Services to Assist Students to Succeed Throughout the Course

LEARNING SUPPORT AND SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

There are a variety of services available for students to assist them throughout their learning. This information is available in the College calendar, at Student Services or the College web site at camosun.ca.

STUDENT CONDUCT POLICY

There is a Student Conduct Policy which includes plagiarism. It is the student's responsibility to become familiar with the content of this policy. The policy is available in each School Administration Office, at Student Services and on the College web site in the Policy Section.

8. Further Information

- Students are expected to read the material, attend class, and participate in discussions. Essays must be handed in on time (at the beginning of the class on the due date).
- Students must follow the MLA system for in-text citations. Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Any ideas or words borrowed from someone else must be attributed. Ask if in doubt.
- Students must keep a folder of all rough work (no matter how messy) used in the preparation of the essays. If asked, a student must produce this folder or the essay will be given a grade of zero. Keep a copy of your work. Keep your marked essays.
- The class will be a mixture of lecture, discussion, small group discussion and presentations, and occasional in-class writing.
- The final exam covers the whole course.

NOTE: Late work is not accepted; therefore, late work results in a zero for the assignment. Only under extraordinary circumstances will I accept late work. You should assume that all work must be handed in on time—and that means at the beginning of the class on the due date.

IMPORTANT: You will get out of this class what you put into it; therefore, the more prepared you are, the more you will learn. I suggest that you read the assigned material at least once before coming to class, and you should read with a pencil and notebook handy. Make comments or write down questions as you go along. Look up unfamiliar words or words that do not make sense to you in the context. Class discussions are to be conducted in a supportive manner with attention given to the speaker. Enthusiastic participation in discussion is desirable—and we will try to give everyone a chance to voice opinions.

Order of Importance of Issues

1. Content—your essay must have a thesis (something that can be argued), and you must develop the thesis.
2. The argument must be organized.
3. Coherence and unity—sentences must be logically arranged in paragraphs, and paragraphs must be logically arranged in the whole essay. Provide transitions between sentences and paragraphs (put the transitions at the beginning of the new paragraph). Everything in the essay must relate to the thesis, and everything in a particular paragraph must relate to the paragraph's topic.
4. Sentence structure—write complete sentences. If you use a fragment for style, put SF in the margin.
5. General grammar issues—subjects and verbs must agree, pronouns and antecedents must agree, modifiers should be close to what is modified, parallel structure needs attention, and so on.
6. Spelling, punctuation, and mechanics—try to write an error-free essay.
7. Diction—choose words carefully.

Grades and Their Meaning

- A range—superior level of achievement—a paper worth consulting good insight into material with detailed, significant discussion effective organisation for paper's purpose fluent, error-free expression
- B range—high level of achievement—a paper worth keeping competent treatment of material with full but not as detailed a discussion as A organisation contributes to sense but lacks effectiveness of an A paper free of common errors
- C+ a little above satisfactory—a paper worth doing sound content, somewhat mechanical organisation may have one or two serious errors in expression
- C satisfactory acceptable but commonplace content adequately supported coherent but mechanical organisation
 sometimes confusing expression because of errors
- D minimum level to achieve credit—a paper worth rewriting limited content with weak support

- organisation may be confusing
 numerous errors in expression that hinder communication
- F unsatisfactory—a failing paper—inadequate or inaccurate content with limited or no support; numerous errors that prevent communication

First Essay Topics

Due: May 26 at the beginning of class

Length: minimum 1200 words

Choose one of the following topics and write a clearly organized essay backed up by quotations from the primary texts—the stories. Essays lacking quotations will automatically fail. Include the page numbers after each quotation, using MLA format.

1. Compare setting and its effect in “The Man Doll,” “This All Happened,” and “Gussy and the Boss.”
2. Compare Jarvis Poulter (“Meneseteung”), John (“The Painted Door”), and Chris (“Horses of the Night”).
3. Compare the marital relationships in “Dead Girls,” “The Art of Cooking and Serving,” and “The Painted Door.”
4. Compare the topic of identity in three of the following: “Gussy and the Boss,” “The Baby in the Airmail Box,” “Jesus Christ, Murdeena,” and “The Man Doll.”
5. Compare Murdeena (“Jesus Christ, Murdeena”), Chris (“Horses of the Night”), and Almeda (“Meneseteung”).
7. Compare the symbolism in three of the following: “The Painted Door,” “The Baby in the Airmail Box,” “Meneseteung,” “Jesus Christ, Murdeena,” and “The Art of Cooking and Serving.”
8. You may devise your own topic, but it must be submitted for approval by May 24 (may be done by email). Do not hand in an essay on an unapproved topic.

Poetry Explication

The following is a list of questions you may wish to ask when you are reading a poem. These questions may be helpful when you are discussing poetry, and they will definitely help when you are preparing to analyze a poem.

1. Who is the speaker? (e.g. male, female, old, young, dead, alive)
2. What kind of person is the speaker? (e.g. kind, intelligent, proud)
3. Does knowledge of the speaker help with the poem's meaning?
4. To whom is the speaker speaking? Why?
5. What is the setting (time and place)?
6. What is the tone (happy, sad, serious, etc.)?
7. How is the tone achieved?
8. What is the outline of the poem, its general structure and development?
9. If the poem is a narrative one, what are the events?
10. Can you paraphrase (put into your own words) the poem?
11. What is the theme of the poem? (Note: theme is not the same as subject.)
12. Is there more than one theme?
13. What kind of diction (word choice) does the poem have?
14. Are there any words that are particularly well chosen? Why?
15. What is the imagery (animal, garden, scientific, etc.) of the poem? What kinds of images are used?
16. Can you identify and explain the following:
 - a) metaphors (comparison saying one thing is another)
 - b) similes (comparison using the words like, as or than)
 - c) personification (given human qualities to animals or inanimate objects)
 - d) metonymy (figure of speech that substitutes one idea or object for a related one—crown for king)
 - e) synecdoche (figure of speech in which a part stands for the whole—hands for workers)
 - f) paradox (self-contradictory statement)
 - g) overstatement (hyperbole)
 - h) understatement
 - i) irony
 - j) symbols
 - k) allusions
17. Is the poem an allegory?
18. Does the poem use sound repetition? (alliteration, assonance, consonance)
19. Does the poem have onomatopoeia?
20. Does the poem rhyme? (if so, what kind of rhyme is used: masculine, feminine, dactylic, end, internal, near, eye or sight rhyme)
21. Is the sound of the poem adapted to the sense?
22. What is the form or pattern of the poem?
23. Does the poem relate to a literary convention, a school of thought, or a period?
24. What's the significance of the title?

Please note—these questions cannot be applied to all poems, but they will give you a starting ground for discussion.
