5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

This is the first part of an Intermediate Conversational French Course.

Students will be evaluated on the basis of their oral participation (10%), their speeches (10%), their weekly assignments (10%), and periodic tests (70%).

Students will write chapter tests on all lessons of : Bragger & Ariew 's Chère Françoise up to and including Ch. 7.

Prior to tests, and as the class progresses students are required to complete the Workbook /Lab manual, practice orally on line (D2L) and do the necessary oral review with monitors.

Because of the oral component of the tests, there is no late writing and because of the progressive and accumulative nature of the course, late assignments will not be accepted.

Weekly written assignments consist of a 150-word minimum composition and are to be handed in at the beginning of class, not e-mailed. As the assignments can be used as a basis for class discussions, debates or oral presentations, the topics are to be chosen from the ones suggested in the book (see schedule p. 2 ).

Being a class of conversational French, oral participation is a big part of learning. It will be marked after each class and averaged over the best 20 marks of the semester.

The reader book Comeau's Classiques pour débutants will be used to develop reading and conversational skills. Any readings assigned in Chère Françoise or Classiques pour débutants are expected to be done prior to class (the letters in Chère Françoise are read and recorded on line: D2L).

 Reswick, Essential French Grammar

The purpose of the Lab is to give students a chance to assimilate the material between classes, to practice on a one to one basis and to identify problem areas. Monitors working in the Lab are mostly Francophones trained by the instructor to help students with their drills, exercises, written and oral assignments and conversation, as well they bring their own French identity and culture to create a friendly, fun atmosphere. All written work should be checked in the Lab : the workbook on a regular basis and home assignments before they are handed in.
