10. Acquire a tolerance of and respect for cultural and biological diversity.

3. Required Materials

Haviland, William, et al.
2010 The Essence of Anthropology, second edition. Belmont, CA: Wadsworth.

4. Basis of Student Assessment (weighting)

(A)	EXAMS	Exams (75%) Please note that all exams must be written in order to pass this course. The exams are on-line so I cannot control what materials you have available to you at the time of writing. For this reason the exams are timed. There are also quizzes for each chapter of the textbook. These quizzes are optional and meant as practice for the exams. The exams will be made available for a period of one week, except for the final exam which will be open for 2 weeks. Once you log-on to the exam you will have 1.5 hours to complete it. All exams are a combination of multiple-choice, true and false, and written questions. Midterm 1 (25%) – Week 5 (Feb 6-9) Midterm 1 will cover the content from module 2 (introduction to anthropology and fieldwork), module 3 (theory of evolution and hominid evolution), module 4 (concept of culture), and module 5 (living primates) Midterm 2 (25%) - Week 9 (March 5-9) Midterm 2 will cover the content from module 6 (archaeology), module 7 (the Neolithic Revolution), module 8 (subsistence and exchange), and module 9 (marriage and kinship) Final Exam (25%) – Week 14 (April 9-20) The final exam will cover the content from module 10 (human variation), module 11 (language and communication), module 12 (culture change and globalization) and module 13 (applying anthropology)
(B)	Assignments	Assignments (25%) Student Discussion Groups (15%) Student participation is important in this course. Each student is automatically assigned to a small group upon enrollment in this course. There are ten questions on the discussion page that you will answer and discuss with the members of your group. Your mark for this assignment will be based on your overall participation throughout the semester. Each discussion will be open for one week. It is important that you make your initial post by the Wednesday to ensure the other members of your group have time to read your post and respond to it before the end of the week. Your postings are meant to reflect your critical thinking about the topic. You are expected to have completed the modules to which the questions are related before making your postings. This will ensure you have a good grasp of the issues. Please draw on the material from the module in forming your position. You are also expected to respond to the posts made by the other members of your group. Make sure to use citations when referencing course materials. The APA referencing style should be used for your citations.

		Cultural Survival Paper (10%) Due April 6th This assignment is meant to give you a better understanding of some of the topics pertaining to cultural survival. For this assignment each student will read two articles on a cultural survival issues such as language loss, water rights, indigenous education, or self-determination, and how a particular group of people is dealing with this issue. You will write a short paper based on the article(s) which will be submitted to the Dropbox.

Temporary Grades

Temporary grades are assigned for specific circumstances and will convert to a final grade according to the grading scheme being used in the course. See Grading Policy E-1.5 at camosun.ca for information on conversion to final grades, and for additional information on student record and transcript notations.

Temporary Grade	Description
I	Incomplete: A temporary grade assigned when the requirements of a course have not yet been completed due to hardship or extenuating circumstances, such as illness or death in the family.
IP	In progress: A temporary grade assigned for courses that, due to design may require a further enrollment in the same course. No more than two IP grades will be assigned for the same course. (For these courses a final grade will be assigned to either the 3rd course attempt or at the point of course completion.)

CW	Compulsory Withdrawal: A temporary grade assigned by a Dean when an instructor, after documenting the prescriptive strategies applied and consulting with peers, deems that a student is unsafe to self or others and must be removed from the lab, practicum, worksite, or field placement.
