Intended Learning Outcomes

How children grow and develop physically, intellectually, emotionally, psychologically, and socially is the subject matter of this course. There is an emphasis on needs at any given age and stage and how these needs can best be met.

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Describe the biological, psychological and social developmental changes that occur from conception through adolescence.
2. Explain the biological and environmental effects on development.
3. Summarize the main developmental theories in developmental psychology.
4. Apply developmental theories to the study of children in various stages of development.

The outcomes will be measured by a combination of examinations, assignments, presentations, group work, and discussions.

Recommended Materials

Texts: Infants and Children: Prenatal Through Middle Childhood 6th Ed. Laura Berk
Virtual Child Program (will discuss in class)

Other: Web-notes from my website (listed above). They will be available as PowerPoint slides for students who are interested in printing out lecture material prior to class. Please note that in the event that I am unable to post the notes to the website at least 24 hours prior to class, that I will bring a hardcopy of the notes to class with me. It is important to state that web-notes ONLY cover information from overheads/Power Point...they represent only about 1/3 - 1/2 of the information presented in lecture, and do not include assignments, diagrams, practice examples, etc. Therefore, if you miss a class, please make sure that you can get the notes from a friend. ***Important...due to the number of students coming and going during the first week of class, I will provide hard-copies of all notes and assignments.

Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

- 1. Tests: There will be three tests in total, covering approximately 4-6 chapters each. The tests will count as 20% each for a total of 60% from tests. Format will include variations of 1/3 points from multiple choice, true/false, matching, etc.; 1/3 points from short answer; and 1/3 points from paragraph answers. Focus topics will outline, in advance, the exact format for each test. The tests are not cumulative and will be given during lecture. Please make sure that you arrive on time, so that you have the full time allotted to write each test. If you miss a test due to illness and have a doctor's note, you may write a make-up exam.
- 2. Assignments: There will be two assignments in total. These will require an application of the concepts and a brief write-up regarding your findings, or answering questions regarding the applied task. To make sure that you get proper credit for your work, please make sure that you have included your full name and student number clearly on each assignment. Each assignment will be worth 7% of your final grade for a total of 14% from assignments.
- 3. Virtual Child: You will be raising a virtual child online, and making decisions that will affect his/her development. There will be a separate hand-out and explanation given for this program, but you will be responsible for handing in three progress reports for your child (these are generated automatically by the program itself) with each report worth 2% of your grade, for a total of 6% from Virtual Child.
- 3. Research Paper: You will be asked to conduct an observation of an infant or child. Using developmental theories, you will analyze these observations across physical, cognitive and social domains. This will be written up in APA style and will be described in greater detail as the course progresses. This research paper will be worth 20% of your grade.

Summary of Evaluation:

Tests:	3 tests X 20% each =	60% of total grade
Assignments:	2 assignments X 7% each =	14% of total grade
Virtual Child	3 reports printed X 2% each =	6% of total grade
Paper:		20% of total grade
