2. Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able

1. Write expository prose for various purposes and audiences.
 - Develop a mature writing process, which may include prewriting, planning, drafting, conferring, revising, and editing/proofing.
 - Select and use rhetorical patterns purposefully.
 - Write correct, clear, cohesive, and effective English.
 - Vary style purposefully through attending to sentence rhythms, sentence variety, vocabulary, and figurative language.
2. Read mature expository and persuasive prose by student and professional writers.
 - Vary their reading approach for different purposes such as research and criticism.
 - Analyze expository prose by identifying controlling ideas, supporting ideas, dominant rhetorical pattern, tone, and features of style.
 - Summarize expository prose in their own words to reflect coherently the original's ideas, organization, and tone.
3. Research topics for expository papers.
 - Use a variety of sources, which may include personal knowledge, interview, print, and other media.
 - Choose to summarize, paraphrase, or directly quote from sources.
 - Integrate the results of research into expository papers.
 - Document sources fully and ethically, according to specified bibliographic conventions.

7. General Information

- Please respect the manners to which we agreed on the first day of class.
- Please submit work when due at the beginning of class; do not email assignments.
- Be sure to retain all of your marked work until you have received your final grade for the course.
- Please make a commitment to yourself not only to prepare for class by reading the assigned material but also to attend all classes and to participate in class discussions.
- Please also make a commitment to do your own work; it is, after all, “an essential experience that you owe yourself,” as Adrienne Rich has said.
- To review the APA style of documentation, please consult your textbook by Hacker & Sommers (2012, p. 441-497) or the Camosun College Library home page. To login to the latter, use your student I.D. # (C#####) as your user name and your date of birth (mmddy) as your password. To customize your password, touch Control/Alt/Del.
