Intended Learning Outcomes

(No changes are to be made to these Intended Learning Outcomes as approved by the Education Council of Camosun College.)

When reading some of the major works of early British literature, students will be encouraged to make connections, evaluate works based on established critical criteria, and recognize both the general characteristics of a literary movement and the characteristics of an author's style within the context of the period. At the end of the course the student will be able to:

1. Analyze literature from ca 1000 to 1700. Readings may be presented historically or by theme.
2. Evaluate a variety of genres, which will include poetry, verse narrative, and drama. Readings may include other prose forms such as essays and diaries.
3. Compare works such as those from the Beowulf poet, Chaucer, the Gawain poet, Marlowe, Shakespeare, Donne, Spenser, Jonson, and Milton. Note that individual instructors may put a slight change of focus in this course by choosing one author over another, but the general tenor of the course will remain the same.

When discussing the literature of this period, students will be encouraged to develop their own interpretations to the works using a variety of critical methods and resources. At the end of the course the student will be able to:

4. Acknowledge the socio-historical context of the work.
5. Identify and account for recurring themes in the literature from 1000 to 1700.
6. Relate this period's literature and its relevance to the continuum of literary works.
7. Compare and contrast various works, authors and styles.
8. Distinguish between the subjective and objective aspects of works.
9. Identify the influence of dominant critical theories or movements in the contexts of the literature studied.

When writing about the literature of this period, students will be expected to demonstrate their understanding of the above issues and to explain, support and illustrate their interpretations of literature in essays and a final exam. At the end of the course the student will be able to:

10. Use relevant textual evidence.
11. Document sources using current MLA conventions.
