5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

- (a) Exams (60%): There will be three in-class exams; each exam is worth 20% of your final grade. Exams will consist of multiple-choice, short answer, and long answer questions and will test your knowledge of assigned readings and lecture material. The exams will be held at the beginning of class on the dates listed above. More information, along with some practice questions, will be provided in class prior to the first exam.
- (b) In-class discussions (10%): During almost every class, there will be a group discussion assignment for you to complete. In groups of three to four students, you will complete an assignment together (you will generally have about 20 minutes to do this). These assignments will be handed-out and handed-in during the same class. It is the responsibility of the group to finish the assignments in the allotted time. After every class, the assignment will be graded either satisfactory or unsatisfactory, and all group members will receive the same grade. All the discussion assignments together will add up to 10% of your final grade, which makes each assignment worth a little under 1%.
- (c) Case study analysis (30%):
Presentation (10%) (Group component) In groups of 4-5, students, you will prepare an in-class presentation on one of the case studies covered in class. This presentation will last between 15 and 20 minutes. More information on this assignment will be provided in class. This assignment is worth 10% of your final grade, and all group members will receive the same grade (provided you are present).

Research paper (20%)
(Individual component)

Each student must submit a 1000-1500 word research paper discussing the social problem related to your presentation. More information on this assignment will be provided in class. This assignment is worth 20% of your final grade.

(BONUS) Paper Outline (2%): You may submit an outline for your research paper to receive up to 2% bonus marks. More information about this will be provided in class.

6. Grading System

Missed Assignment Policy

If you miss an exam or presentation or do not hand in the paper on time and you have a reasonable excuse (illness, accident, family affliction, religious obligations, etc.), please contact me as soon as possible to schedule a make-up assignment or to arrange a new due date for the missed assignment. If you do not have a reasonable excuse, a missed exam or presentation will receive a grade of zero and late paper will be penalized at 5% per day.

If you miss handing in a group discussion assignment and you have a reasonable excuse, please email me or talk to me the following class. You will not be required to make up the discussion assignment; the missed assignment will simply be removed from the calculation of your grade (making all your other group discussion assignments worth slightly more). If you do not have a reasonable excuse, any missed group discussion assignment will receive a grade of zero.

Failure to complete required work for this course (exams, presentation, and paper) may result in a failing grade.
