5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

(This section should be directly linked to the Intended Learning Outcomes.)

A. COURT REPORT – 25%

There are three steps to this assignment. First up, pick a team of 3. Just to be clear, not 1 or 2... 3. That's the easy part. Next up, go hang around the courthouse downtown or the one in Colwood (yup, there is one). You need to observe a few criminal matters in progress. See some first appearances, bail hearings, a pre-lim, a trial, a sentencing... poke your heads into various courtrooms and see what kind of criminal matters you can watch. That's not too tough. Now the hard part... each of your crack team of 3 will write a 2 page part of a 6 page overview of your criminal court experience. The report is marked as a whole – not individually. So... that keeps you all working as a team for the awesome mark you get (sadly for some that will be a C). The 3 parts of the paper can be, for example, what you did in court, how what you saw fits in the greater criminal justice system as a whole, and what you thought about the processes you saw. Your thoughts on the process is the key part. It brings together the whole term and what you have learned and observed in court. It's important that while you are working as a team that your paper is cohesive and reads like one paper. Oh, and writing? Yup. I'm a stickler for good writing. Short, concise, sentences. Proper paragraphs. No spelling or grammar errors. Proof read. Proof read. Proof read.

This is due in class on Tues November 17th .

B. COW – 10%

That means Crime Of the Week. At the start of each class we will talk about recent items in the news that relate to criminal law. Throughout the term you must bring in two recent articles that relate to criminal law and the criminal justice system. Your sources can be the Times Colonist, some other local newspaper, The Globe and Mail, a reliable Internet site (and just so you know, Wikipedia and Perez Hilton do not count), or some other source like that. You need to briefly tell us in class about your COW. You will hand in the article you found and a one paragraph synopsis of the article with a statement of how you feel it fits into the Canadian Criminal Justice System.

WARNING: do not leave this until the end of term. We don't do COW all the time. And we do not do it the last class of term.

C. LETTER TO THE EDITOR – 10%

Your dream come true – you'll be a published author. Sort of. This assignment requires you to write a letter to the editor of a local paper. This means the Times Colonist, any of the local "news" papers like the Saanich News, Oak Bay News, Victoria... even a national paper like the Globe or National Post. The letter needs to comment (your opinion) on some aspect of our criminal justice system. For example, it could be a comment on a recent article on amendments to the Criminal Code, or even a sentencing you heard about. But the letter must be published and you must submit a copy of the published letter (ie: the newspaper clipping). The clipping needs to have a cover sheet with your name and date submitted on it. This is due by December 1st. Don't leave it until the end of term. You can do this and submit it any time – kinda like the COW.

D. EXAMS

There will be two exams.

First Exam 20% - Tuesday October 20th in class

Second Exam 35% - during final exam period on a date set by the college.

These dates don't budge. You miss an exam... you fail. Nice and simple. Exams will be true/false, multiple choice, short answer format. Exams are cumulative – which means they cover the whole term.
