3. Required Materials

Feber, Abby L., Holcomb, Kimerly, Wentling, Tre. 2013. Sex, Gender, and Sexuality The New Basics. (2nd Edition) New York: Oxford University Press.

Additional assigned readings as listed in course outline

4. Course Description

This course is an interdisciplinary critique of "gender" and its intersection with socially constructed relations of power (e.g., sexuality, class, religion, age). The processes and mechanisms that construct and institutionalize gender will be considered in a variety of contexts; language, culture, the media, violence, and resistance are addressed within our global world. The course analyzes key concepts, theories, questions and debates in Gender and Women's Studies of privilege, power and transformation, particularly in the context of transnationalism.

5. Course Content and Schedule

Three hours per week will be spent in lecture sessions, with some of that time designated for seminar-discussions and audio-visual presentations. The following schedule will provide a guide to lecture topics, readings assignments and important deadlines.

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

(a) Term Paper – 20%

Each student will be expected to write an auto-ethnographic analysis based on two chapters from Feber et al. The paper will incorporate feminist/gender theory used during the course and will be approximately 6 pages in length. An instructional handout will be provided by the end of September.

(b) Presentations – 15%

Students will be put into groups of 4-5 and will be assigned a topic and will be expected to provide a presentation to the class at some point in the semester. The materials presented may be based on popular culture but must include an academic analysis. Presentations will be no more than 30 minutes in length for the entire panel. Each panel will be responsible for a written summary of the materials presented.

- (c) Test One 15% October 6, 2015
- (d) Test Two 15% November 10, 2015
- (e) Test Three 15% December 8, 2015
- (f) Reading Evaluation 20% Each class, excluding first class, last class and Test classes, there will be a short quiz given directly relating to the assigned readings of that day. The quiz will be given at the beginning of class and will be worth 2% of your grade. Failure to attend and take part in the quiz will result in 0% for that day.
