COURSE & INSTRUCTIONAL POLICIES

CONDITIONS: The Contract – Attendance and Participation

Empathy is an indispensable tool when working effectively with clients within the CJ field. You will have the opportunity to enhance or develop your empathy through a classroom simulation. You are aware that folks on probation and parole have "orders" to follow and the failures to follow these orders have potentially serious consequences. How difficult is it to meet these conditions? To help you appreciate this challenge we place on our clients, you will have this condition to follow:

Attendance orders have the condition that a person must attend a set number of sessions to complete the program. In this course, your attendance is necessary so that you can fully participate and offer your "self" to your class mates. The consequence of missing a class is huge - one percent (1%) of the overall course grade will be forfeited for each absence. However, a medical note may be taken into consideration if you notify me via email or phone message before class (extenuating circumstances excluded). Late arrivals and early exits also interfere with your ability to participate and you will lose marks accordingly. Two missed classes and two late arrivals are excused. If you are missing class, any preparation for class assignments must still be submitted via the online drop box in advance of the class start time.

Late Penalty

If an assignment is to be drop boxed and you fail to submit it before the deadline, the penalty is 10% off the total mark per calendar day. Best practice is to create artificial deadlines of a few days before assignments are due.

Our Classroom as a Community of Learners

As you interact with the course materials and with each other, in this course you are given the opportunity to learn about and apply criminological theories. The course is content rich and detailed, and I hope you find it interesting. We have our own opinions about why people commit crime, and what should be done when people are caught; our views will likely differ, and because of this we actually have much to offer each other. Our commitment to thinking, reflecting and sharing will create a supportive community of inquiry. As for me, my role will be to help facilitate this inquiry.

It is expected that you will be attentive, non-disruptive, open-minded, constructive and respectful of each other. For example, using headphones, engaging in text messaging, looking at voice messages, surfing the internet or using any means of disengaging with your classmates and the learning process is considered disrespectful and rude.

Your phones MUST be out of site – if in my site, I will relocate your phone to the front of the class.

If you use a laptop to take notes, then please sit at the front of the class.

Exam Policy

All exams must be written at the times and on the dates assigned. A student who misses an exam due to illness must inform the instructor on or before the date of the exam and provide a doctor's note. If your excuse for missing an exam is not acceptable, you cannot write the exam at a later date. Note that if you arrive late for an exam after a classmate has already left, you cannot write the exam. Arrive early; plan for the unexpected.

Written Assignment Requirements

All assignments must meet the basic requirements for academic writing in Criminal Justice. Use the Writing Reference Manual for the Criminal Justice Program. All assignments MUST be in APA format (1" margins, double spaced, Times New Roman font, 12 font, indent first line of first paragraph, running head, correct cover page).

All assignments submitted for evaluation in this course must be original and produced for the purposes of this course only. The submission of assignments completed for other courses may be construed as academic dishonesty.

Course Completion Requirements

Students must write both exams and submit both the Summary of a Criminological Study and Analysis of a Criminological Problem to receive a passing grade for the course. Students failing to complete these 4 requirements earn an F grade.

Plagiarism

If you are concerned about your ability to properly credit and cite references, please come see me.

Plagiarism is when you fail to fully and accurately acknowledge the sources of ALL the information in your assignments; the problem is that you give the impression that this is your own work. For example, if you quote something (word for word) but fail to put it in quotation marks or properly reference the citation to the author, then you are plagiarizing.

Another example is if you paraphrase the information or ideas from a source but fail to cite the author (this can include a classmate's paper).

Course Format

The general format for this course includes in-class assignments, small group discussion, lecture, video, and case studies. If you read or watch something that you think is relevant to the course please share with the class!
