2. Intended Learning Outcomes

(No changes are to be made to these Intended Learning Outcomes as approved by the Education Council of Camosun College.)

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a knowledge of ecological systems and the impact of human activity on those systems.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of key environmental issues.
3. Demonstrate a knowledge of courses of action which address environmental concerns.

4. Course Content and Schedule

Lectures: There will usually be two hours of lecture per week, usually on Mondays. The whiteboard will be heavily utilized and digital images will augment the traditional lecture style.

Labs: There are seven labs in the course. Each lab contains exercises to familiarize students with environmental issues, government and non-profit web sites, and the tools of geographic analysis. Most lab exercises, due to their use of Internet information, will be taken home for completion. Labs will have assigned due dates and late submissions will not be accepted once marked labs have been handed back.

Plot Study: You will choose a place that is representative of the Greater Victoria region and will visit it frequently throughout the term to make observations, collect images, and learn about its ecosystem components. You'll also research the human history of your plot and the development protections or plans for it. At the end of term you will create a multi-sensory presentation of your plot that will introduce your classmates to its unique characteristics.

Reading Reflections: To ensure that you will leave this course with a broad foundation, I will be providing a series of readings. Because the temptation to not do the course readings is so strong, I will be setting up opportunities for you to show me your familiarity with the material.

Victoria's Issues – 2016: The current Mayor of Victoria, Lisa Helps, has shown a real commitment to sustainability issues in the municipality. How can I make such a statement? Only after watching the City Council meetings online to see what issues are raised for discussion and what actions are proposed and supported by the council members. I'll ask you to join me and tune in once month to the Council meeting and compile a list of the issues addressed by Council and the different perspectives brought forward.
