Weekly schedule

A detail schedule will be weekly provided on D2L.

Students will practice the four proficiencies: writing, reading, speaking, and listening in French. Active participation during class time and active learning outside class are very important to students' own learning experience but to their partners as well because many activities will be conducted in pairs.

Activities in class and assignments (10%+20%)

Many activities will be done in class in small groups. While some will be simple practice, others will be evaluated based on the quality of answers and participation (i.e., engagement). Therefore, it is very important to be present in class. The evaluated activities will be announced one week prior to the evaluation. These activities must be completed in class. Students will receive feedback on these evaluated activities. In addition, students will be asked to complete out of class assignments. These assignments must be completed individually by the due date and no late submissions will be accepted.

Oral dialogues (10%+15%)

Students will prepare and present in pairs two dialogues based on the topics seen in class. The dialogue and the topic must be chosen by the student(s) in consultation with the instructor. The presentation must be entirely created by the student(s) without the help of software or other persons. The objective of this activity is to encourage students' learning while expressing their creativity through conversation. Students may show their progress to the instructor during the term in order to receive feedback on how to improve their language skills (grammar, syntax, and vocabulary) and their oral expression (pronunciation, rhythm, and intonation).

Tests (20%+25%)

Students will have to complete two tests that include writing, reading, listening. The test #2 (25%) will be completed during the exam period between June 19th and June 21st.

Illness, accident and family affliction are the only legitimate reasons to miss an evaluated activity in class or an exam (tests and dialogues). The teacher reserves the right to require a doctor's note if a student is absent due to illness. Students who are absent the day a test is given are expected to contact the teacher prior to the exam.

Remember: It is your responsibility to find out from colleagues what class work, announcements or assignments you have missed while absent, as well as to check the D2L for this course periodically.

Note: Cheating and plagiarism

The assessments, orals, and tests must be completed without any translators or proofreading (speaking) by anyone else. Work that suggests the use of external help will not be accepted. Using translator programs or having another person do your assignments, your tests, or create your oral dialogues constitutes cheating.

Also, copying an entire assignments (including dialogues) or representing specific passages as if they are students own words is plagiarism.
