The ability to implement communication theory into practice is the primary objective of this course. In order to accomplish this, students will complete readings from the text, participate in class discussions, and practice new skills in a series of structured exercises involving pairs and groups.

Class time will be divided among lecture (theory), group activities (application) and course exercises (skill development)

5. Evaluation

I. Quizzes

20%

A short quiz will be given after every other chapter reading. Quizzes ensure students keep up with the text material. There are NO make-up quizzes. The best four of five quizzes comprise twenty percent of the final mark. A student may miss one quiz without their grade being affected.

II. Tests

45%

The midterm and final exam make up forty-five percent of the final grade. The midterm is worth 20% of the final grade and the final exam is worth 25% of the final grade. Both tests are comprised of multiple choice, T/F, matching, and short answer questions as well as applied exercises based on class activities. Tests provide an opportunity for students to demonstrate their conceptual understanding of course content. The midterm covers material in chapters one through six. The final exam covers material in chapters seven through ten.

III. Audiotape/Transcription projects (in-class)

10%

Working in groups of three, students will participate in a 5 minute listening exercise. Students will record their dialogue, transcribe the dialogue and then write an analysis of the dialogue. There will be two transcription projects in the term, each worth 5%
