METHODS OF EVALUATING YOUR LEARNING

Exams (45%)

Two exams are scheduled for this course.

February 27th, 2018 20%

Final Exam week 25%

Each exam will review your recollection/understanding of the content from the assigned readings and the material addressed in class (guest speakers, power point, video presentations, etc.). Each exam will not be comprehensive and will be based on the material covered between exam periods (i.e. The final exam will be based on material covered from February 28th to the course end date). That being said, some of the latter material covered will be based on concepts covered during earlier portions of the course. The format may include true / false, fill in the blank, short answer, multiple choice and essay questions.

Failure to attend an exam will result in a mark of ZERO (0) and an 'F' Grade in the course.

If you arrive late for either exam and have not made previous arrangements with the instructor, you will be required to complete the exam within the allotted time period from the time the examination began. No further time will be provided. For clarity, if the examination began at 6 pm and 60 minutes were allotted to complete the exam, you will be required to complete the exam by 7 pm, regardless of the time of your arrival.

Case Summary Assignment 30%

Due Date: March 15, 2018

Late assignments will be penalized by a deduction of 5% per day.

To complete this assignment, you must find and summarise four (4) case decisions from one area of law from an Appeal Court and the Supreme Court of Canada and then write a comparative summary. You will need to begin by selecting a division of law and then finding court decisions from four (4) cases in that division of law. It is recommended that you choose cases from one of the following divisions: Criminal law, Family Law or Tort Law. If you choose another division of law you must check with your instructor first.

Cases summarised must be Canadian. Cases chosen must all be from the same division of law. You may write two summaries on the same case only if there were differing decisions at the Provincial Appeal Court and Supreme Court of Canada levels. You must have cases from at least 2 different Courts of Appeal. One of your five cases must be the most recent Supreme Court of Canada decision in the area you have chosen.

Research, meaning selecting cases and finding decisions, is a key part of this assignment. Once you have found your four (4) cases, the summarizing part of the assignment will be fairly straightforward. If you select cases that involve constitutional questions or where the courts have made new law or changed existing law, the assignment will be easier to complete. Media coverage may be helpful in finding cases and in writing your summary in terms of identifying issues and outcomes, but research outside of the case decisions is not required.

Decisions of courts are available online. Each court has an easy search engine to use. (use links from D2L or go to www.courts.gov.bc.ca and <http://scc.lexum.org/decisia-scc-csc/scc-csc/en/nav.do>)

Each case should be presented individually and summarized. Start with the name of the case, the jurisdiction and court name and the citation for that case.

For each case you summarize, you must cover the following topics:

1. Identifying the issue(s) of law at question (What is the case about?);
2. Stating the outcome of the case, including how the judges decided (was the decision unanimous, 5-0, 3-2, 6-3?);
3. Identifying the author of the majority decision;
4. Noting if there were other opinions given (were there concurring or dissenting opinions?);
5. Stating the central reason for the decision (why did the court decide the case this way?) and identifying the points of argument in the case (What were the main questions to be settled or questions where the judges continued to disagree?). Do not repeat the full arguments of the court. Longer is not better. The key skill you are demonstrating here is summarising briefly. You should be able to summarize the case in approximately 150 words.

After you have summarized all your cases, you must also complete the following:

1. Comparative summary:
Write a short comparative summary about the cases you have researched. You should discuss common trends or principles in the cases or areas in which the cases appeared to differ. Ask yourself questions like: Why did similar cases have similar or different outcomes? How has the opinion of the courts changed over time? Did Supreme Court of Canada have a different opinion than one or more Courts of Appeal? Why?
2. Opinion/argument:
Briefly explain your opinion about the area of law you have researched and what the state of the law is according to the cases you have reviewed. You must include at least one the theoretical approaches to law discussed in class and Chapter 1 of the textbook (e.g. Positivist, Feminist), but may apply your own ideas as well.

You must include a reference page with the name and citation for each case you have used, with web links to each case. That page must also be submitted independently to your instructor electronically on the D2L or via email. EXAMPLE: R. v. Mann, [2004] 3 S.C.R 59 <https://scc-csc.lexum.com/scc-csc/scc-csc/en/item/2167/index.do>

Your own written work should total approximately 1000 to a maximum 1250 words, the equivalent of four (4) to five (5) pages, double-spaced, in 12-point font. Include a title page.

Submitting work that is not your own is plagiarism and may result in a zero grade for the assignment. For each case, you must start by providing the case citation.

A Works Cited page must be provided only if other sources like newspapers were used. Otherwise case citations provide adequate documentation. Please consult the Writing Reference Manual for the Criminal Justice Program for assistance with how to cite cases and use references.

Participation and Class Assignments (25%)

Regular attendance and active participation are expected of all students. For the purposes of your participation grade, FIVE (5) in-class participation exercises will be assigned. These exercises will take the form of individual or group projects, group discussions or presentations, or individual written projects. Each exercise will be worth THREE PERCENT (3%) of your total grade for the course, for a total participation mark of (15%).

Each participation exercise will be graded out of THREE (3) POINTS as follows:

- 1 Point - Completeness (did the student complete the task/assignment as instructed)
- 1 Point - Correctness (did the student provide accurate/correct information)
- 1 Point – Quality of work (effort put into completing the task, grammar, spelling, etc.)

In-class participation exercises will be held during various classes throughout the semester. I will not provide advanced notice of the dates of those assignments and students who are not in attendance for the classes in which participation exercise occur will receive ZERO (0) on that exercise. Accommodation will only be provided to students who provide advance notice by 12:00 noon on the date of class of an absence due to illness, injury, illness/injury of a dependent. In the case of emergencies or unforeseeable incidents, accommodation will also be offered at the discretion of the instructor. No accommodation will be offered for missed participation exercises without supporting documentation (e.g. doctor's note). Such documentation must be provided by the end of class April 12, 2018, or the student will receive ZERO (0) for the missed participation exercise.

In the case of accommodation with supporting documentation for missed participation exercises, the student will be provided a make up assignment by the instructor. Such assignments must be completed and submitted by the next class. The assignment may not necessarily be the same as the one assigned in-class and will be determined at the discretion of the instructor.

Participation 10%

Students will provide a self-assessment the last day of class outlining what you feel your grade should be out of 10 for participation in this course. Assessment will be based on attendance, participation in and out of class, readings, discussions and contributions in class and group work. Self-assessments will be used to assist in the grading and will be reviewed by the Instructor when assessing the mark for participation in this class.

INSTRUCTIONAL POLICIES

1. Class Preparation and Participation

You are expected to complete the assigned readings before coming to class. This often becomes increasingly more difficult as the semester moves along and as the completion of assignments and preparation for exams takes a great deal of your time. I would strongly recommend that you use some type of day book where you can keep track of each assignment, readings, exams and other expectations being placed on you.

It is expected that you will arrive on time, be attentive, non-disruptive, constructive and respectful. For example, using headphones, engaging in text messaging, looking at messages, surfing the internet or using any means of disengaging with your classmates and the learning process is not accepted in this class. You will be asked to leave the classroom setting.

I welcome the use of laptops to take notes in class. However, should any student's use of a laptop become disruptive or distracting to other students, I will ask that student to leave the class. Should there be repeated incidents of laptops becoming distractions in class, I may prohibit their use for the remainder of the semester.

2. Late Penalty

All assignments must be completed and submitted on the date and at the time assigned. The penalty for late assignments will be 5% per day. An extension can be granted only with at least 72 hours notice and will only be granted for good reason; supporting documentation may be required.

3. Plagiarism, Cheating & Academic Dishonesty

Please see the College calendar and the Writing Reference Manual for the Criminal Justice Program or the Plagiarism unit in CRIM 120 for more information.

<http://camosun.ca/policies/Educatio-Academic/E-2-Student-Services-&-Support/E-2.5.pdf>

4. Course Completion Requirements

You must complete all evaluative requirements (two exams and case summary assignment) to receive a passing grade in this course. Unfortunately, if you do not complete all requirements, you will receive an F grade.

This does NOT include incomplete participation exercises, only the exams and case summary assignment. Late case summary assignments must be handed in by the scheduled final exam start time or you will not write the final exam.
