Guidelines for preparing and submitting written assignments

All formal written assignments for this course should be typed and double-spaced using a twelve-point, standard font. When and if you use sources, your papers should use correct and complete citation format according to the guidelines set out by the relevant academic discipline. All papers should be clearly marked with your name. Print your papers onto 8.5 by 11-inch white paper using dark, black ink. If you can print onto both sides of the page, please do so to save paper.

In addition to these basic requirements, ensure each paper is formatted to the specifications designated by the relevant assignment sheet.

Late and missing assignments

Assignments are due in hardcopy at the beginning of class on the date indicated in the syllabus. Assignments handed in after the start of class are considered late. Late assignments that have not received an extension will receive a penalty of 5% per day. Assignments that have not received an extension and that are more than a week late will receive a zero.

Extensions will be granted only in extenuating circumstances, and extensions must be discussed with me well in advance of the due date. Requests for extensions must be submitted in writing.

Plagiarism & Cheating

Plagiarism and cheating are serious academic offenses. Any student found guilty of plagiarism or cheating will receive a zero on the assignment and may incur additional penalties as laid out by the School of Arts and Science's Academic Honesty Guidelines. Please also see the Student Conduct Policy for additional details.

Attendance and Participation

You and your classmates will benefit most from this course through your regular attendance and active participation. However, I do understand that life happens. You may miss up to two classes, no questions asked. Three unexcused absences will result in a 5% deduction from your overall mark. Four or more unexcused absences will result in a 10% deduction from your total mark.

In short, when you can, please be considerate and let me know when and why you will miss class. This will allow me to assess how to best help you catch up on the work you missed and how to help you in the course moving forward.

Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class. If you know you must miss a class, leave early, or arrive late, inform me about it in advance. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to obtain notes and relevant information from another student and/or D2L.

Please note that coming in late and leaving early disrupts the class and your fellow students. It also impedes group work and hinders the benefits of individual work as well. Please be considerate to yourself and others and arrive to class on time.

Additional Notes

If you encounter challenges or circumstances that you feel impede your learning in this course, or if throughout the term you discover ways I could better support your learning, please let me know. I am happy to work with you to create a positive and productive learning environment.
