Further Information

1. It is important that students read all the assigned material, complete all writing projects, and attend classes.
2. Work must be handed in on time (at the beginning of the class on the due date) unless prior arrangements have been made. You must also send me your essay in .doc or .docx by email by the beginning of the class. Extensions will be granted only at the discretion of the instructor. Late work gets zero. If deadlines are missed, there is no such thing as a late penalty. I do not accept late work. Absences documented by a note from a doctor will be dealt with individually. If you are struggling with time management, please come and talk to me before your work is due. If you have a family emergency, let me know as soon as you can if it may affect your ability to submit material on time and we can discuss possibilities.
3. All work submitted must be that of the student; the use of any words or ideas from another writer or speaker must be properly documented, using the MLA style guide and following the procedure for in-text citations with a works cited page at the end of the essay. Failure to document sources properly is plagiarism, a serious offence that will be dealt with accordingly. I award plagiarized papers a grade of zero. While you are permitted to consult with the Writing Centre, WriteAway, and the English Help Centre, you are not permitted to have anyone edit or proofread your paper (whether paid or volunteer). To do so constitutes plagiarism. If you have any questions about this matter, do not hesitate to ask me. We will cover documentation in the class, and the Camosun Library has excellent information on documentation. If in doubt, document the source. Wikipedia is not an acceptable source for college papers.

4. The more prepared you are, the more you will learn. I suggest that you read the material at least once before coming to class, and you should read with a pencil and notebook handy. Make comments or write down questions as you go along. Or write in the margins of your book, if you choose. Look up unfamiliar words or words that do not make sense to you in the context.

5. If you miss a class, you must get notes from another student. If you have missed a class and get notes from another student and have questions about the material, then please come see me. I cannot reproduce a missed a missed class, but I will try to help you. My office hours are for students. Just drop by. You do not need an appointment. For an instructor's perspective on missed classes, please see Tom Wayman's "Did I Miss Anything?".

6. As a courtesy to everyone else in the class, please turn off all devices (cell phones, laptops etc.) unless you have the assigned reading material on a device. In that case, please let me know in advance. Students using devices in class for anything other than classwork will be asked to stop. Repeat offenders will have to leave. Also please do not bring smelly or noisy food to eat in the class. And please be on time.

7. The Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) assists students with documented disabilities. If you are registered with the CAL, you will be given a letter to pass on to your instructor(s). This letter identifies the types of help to which you are entitled.

Email: http://camosun.ca/services/accessible-learning/

8. Extra help is available online. See the Camosun Library website, for information on all aspects of writing: <<http://camosun.ca/services/library/>> or the Camosun Writing Centre <<http://camosun.ca/services/writing-centre/appointments.html>>. Students can submit essays to WriteAway <<http://writeaway.ca/connect.php>> online and receive feedback from trained tutors. Also see the Purdue University Online Writing Lab: <<https://owl.english.purdue.edu/>>.

9. Save your work. Make sure you save your writing as you go along. Use a flash drive or the cloud or you can email the work to yourself. Keep all marked work. You will need it.

10. The best way to contact me apart from talking to me in class is to email me. I check email once a day and will reply within 24 hours except on weekends. Please put your course (English 161) in the subject line and include your name (first and last) if it's not clear from your email address. Otherwise, I'm likely to delete it. Also make sure the College has your current email address.

11. Organization and time management are important for success. A basic guideline for college courses is that for every hour of class, students have at least two hours of preparation/work. English courses tend to be labour-intensive because of all the reading and writing. And I like to think that English courses are fun. I think I have the best job in the world. We get to read a wide variety of literature and discuss ideas. And drink coffee.
