Welcome to Spanish 100. Spoken in more than 20 countries, the Spanish language is alive with multiple and distinct cultures and accents, and one course can only begin to touch on some of these aspects. Intended for true beginners, Spanish 100 is an introductory course designed to be followed by Spanish 101 next semester. During this term, we will cover chapters 1-5 of your textbook, Aula Internacional 1. If you choose to continue with Spanish 101 in the future, you will then complete the remaining four chapters of your textbook. Following these two courses, students are generally at an A1 (“Breakthrough”) level and may choose to write the DELE exam (Diploma del español como lengua extranjera), thereby gaining an internationally recognized accreditation of their level of Spanish. This semester in Spanish 100, you will learn basic terminology related to many daily life interactions such as meeting new people, university and work life, family and home life, socializing, shopping, past-times, and travel-related vocabulary. In this course, students will also gain an introductory knowledge of some of the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world through exposure to music, texts and video-clips.

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

Oral and Aural Evaluations (35%) Listening quizzes (5): 25% Speaking practice sessions (2): 10%	Writing and Reading Evaluations (25%) Reading quiz (1): 5% Textbook homework (5): 20%
Quizzes (40%) Chapter quizzes (5): 40%

Listening quizzes (5) – (25% of final grade)

Each chapter includes a listening quiz that consists of two parts:

1. Dictation: The instructor will read questions aloud and ask students to write down what they hear and then answer the questions in writing. Students have access to this list of questions in advance on D2L.

2. Textbook CD: Students will listen to a track from the CD and then answer comprehension questions about what they heard. Students have access to all recordings prior to the exams and are encouraged to practice with them frequently.

Speaking practice sessions (2) – (10% of final grade)

On two occasions during the semester (during chapters 3 and 5), students will give a short oral presentation to a small group of classmates and then answer some questions orally. This process will then be repeated two or three additional times that day in order to improve oral skills. Students will need to submit an outline of these presentations for full marks.

Reading Quiz (1) – (5% of final grade)

During chapter 4, students will read one beginner novel outside of class and answer related comprehension questions on a D2L reading quiz. The novel is available in PDF format online; details to follow.

Textbook homework and corrections (5) – (20% of final grade)

Students will be assigned homework from the textbook daily. Check D2L after every class for the day's assignment. Doing homework consists of three steps:

1. Complete the exercises on your own at home prior to the next class.
2. Correct your answers in class (with a different color). If you miss class or your homework is not complete, it is your responsibility to make corrections on your own once you have finished the exercises.

 Homework corrections will take place promptly at the beginning of class. Students who arrive late will need to make their corrections outside of class with a classmate.

3. Later at home, review homework and make notes in the margins about your errors to avoid making the same mistake again. This will also help you prepare for tests.

Five times during the semester (on the same day as the chapter quizzes), students will submit their textbooks for homework revision. For full marks, students must have all homework assignments completed, corrected and show comprehensive notes on their errors in the margins. Any homework that appears to be copied will receive a mark of 0%.

Chapter quizzes (5) – (40% of final grade)

Students will complete five written quizzes in class. Note that the last test (Test 5) includes the last Listening quiz and takes place on the last day of class. There is no final exam.

Policy for missed in-class assessments and assignment due dates:

Illness, accident, family affliction and religious obligations are the only legitimate reasons to miss in-class assessments and assignment due dates. If you are absent the day an assessment is given, please contact me as soon as possible to arrange a make-up test. You may be required to submit a doctor's note or other documentation.

 Attendance:

Learning a new language requires self-discipline and a commitment to keeping up with the class. It is very difficult to catch up after falling behind in a language class and students are advised to keep up with the work day-by-day in order to make progress. If you don't understand something, please see me immediately!

There is no mark for attendance and participation, however, students are unlikely to be successful in this course or to become proficient in the language without being present in class.
