2. Spontaneously compose an SATB harmonization effecting modulation from any diatonic key to any diatonic key, and complete a written score capturing all musical details of the composition.
3. Work effectively in composition and analysis with elementary chromatic harmonies including “Neapolitan” chords, augmented 6th chords, common-tone chords, altered triads, and extended chords.
4. Analyze and extrapolate compositional methodologies from sonata form, sonata-rondo form, and variation forms.

3. Required Materials

- (b) Supplies: To EVERY class, bring staff paper, loose-leaf paper, sharp pencil, and eraser.
- (c) Other: Computer access to the course website in D2L. Weekly homework will be posted. See Section 7, Recommended Materials, below for supplementary course resources.

4. Course Content and Schedule

Dates: 14 Weeks, September 8 - December 12. Plus, December 14-22 for final exams.

Class Location: Virtual classroom on course website in Desire2Learn (D2L).

Class Meeting Times: Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 11:00 AM - 12:20 PM.

Holidays: Week 10, Wednesday, November 11: Remembrance Day.

- (a) Synchronous online virtual classroom time, 3 hours per week; Estimated out-of-class time, 3 hours per week minimum, provided student attends ALL classes. The amount of time spent on this course may vary from student to student.
- (b) The weekly schedule is outlined below on Page 6. For each week of the term, class topics, textbook chapters, and assessment due dates are provided. The following is an overview of the class organization (subject to change): Tuesdays will focus on wrapping up questions from the previous week, then beginning new weekly material and concepts that will appear on the new homework assignment posted the same day and due in the following week on Wednesday; Wednesdays will be spent finishing weekly material started on the day before. Students must be prepared for each class by reading, PRIOR to class, the chapter(s) listed on the weekly schedule (see Page 6).
- (c) Starting in Week 3, weekly homework assignments will be due in class on Wednesdays. These assignments will be posted on the course website in D2L. The readability of each assignment you hand in will count as part of its grade. This includes your handwriting and the correctness of your notation (see Section 7a below). Students must only submit their own original work; submitting other classmates' assignments on their behalf is not allowed. Periodic quizzes (unannounced) will occur at the beginning of class (don't be late!). Attendance and participation are mandatory in all class sessions, as this is a course that depends on synthesizing new concepts with in-class practice.
- (d) The midterm exam will be given in Week 8 and will test your knowledge of all the material covered since the beginning of the term. The final composition project will be a larger compositional assignment given at least two weeks early and due during the final exam period (date TBA). The final exam will be comprehensive and may occur any time within the final exam period (December 14-22). All students must be present for the final exam; DO NOT make plans that overlap with any part of the exam period until the schedule is established. Examination schedules are made available by late October.

4. Course Content and Schedule (Continued)

- (e) Late homework that has not been granted a deadline extension WILL be accepted with a penalty of 2 percentage points each day an assignment is late, up to a maximum of 30 percentage points deducted. No late homework will be accepted after the day that is one week prior to each of the two exams. There are no make-ups for missed quizzes or exams and no extensions of homework deadlines unless your absence is excused AND notice was given PRIOR to class. Absences may be excused for illness, emergency, or participation in institution-sponsored events when appropriate documentation is promptly forwarded to the instructor. In the case of prolonged illness, documentation is required from a doctor (or certified healthcare professional) that includes a clear statement of WHAT you could not do and WHEN you could not do it (e.g., "Student was bedridden from October 5-10," or "Student will not be able to use right hand for two weeks, October 1-15"). It is not necessary to disclose the reason for your illness. Upon approval of your doctor's note, accommodations within reason will be made to reschedule missed assessments or grant extensions on due dates.
- (f) COVID-19 has made it necessary to conduct this course 100% online, which means there will be a period of adjustment as we all become accustomed to new ways of working. Flexibility and communication are essential. The course website in D2L includes a dynamic addendum to this outline, which will be used to provide further details and clarification in case shifts or changes occur as the course progresses.

(b)	Quizzes:	Quizzes (4): 10% of course mark
(c)	Exams:	Midterm Exam: 20% of course mark
	Final Exam:	20% of course mark
(d)	Other:	Final Composition Project: 15% of course mark

6. Grading System

Standard Grading System (GPA)

Competency Based Grading System

IMPORTANT: A passing grade of C or better must be earned in this course, Chromatic Harmony (MUSC 212), in order to continue with the next course in the harmony sequence, Advanced Harmony and Atonal Structures (MUSC 213). Since Harmony is a co-requisite to Aural Skills, a passing grade of C or better must be earned in BOTH this course AND Aural Skills 3 (MUSC 214) in order to continue with Aural Skills 4 (MUSC 215). A grade of D or F in this course will prevent registration in the continuation of BOTH Harmony and Aural Skills, and will need to be improved to a grade of C or better by retaking it in the subsequent academic year.

See Grading Policy at <http://camosun.ca/about/policies/index.html> for information on conversion to final grades, and for additional information on student record and transcript notations.
