7. Recommended Materials to Assist Students to Succeed Throughout the Course

Class Community: This requires students to keep up with the course work and participate in the discussion forums. When everyone does the readings, and assignments, watches the videos, and gives some thought to the material, and then uses all this work to inform contributions to the discussion, the quality of the forums is elevated. This benefits us all, and establishes the foundation of our capacity for critical thought.

Discussions:

Discussion threads will typically be open for posting for one week. There will be new ones every week; so there will always be a discussion to look in on and contribute to. There is more information about this in the introductory lecture video, posted in Week One on D2L.

I will sort students into groups of 8 to 10 people, so as to make keeping track of the discussion contributions manageable for students. Please let me know if for any reason you would like to move to a different group.

Regard the posts you make here as your professional student work, so to speak; this means they are semi-formal, no slang, no swearing, correct grammar and spelling (to the best of your ability). There is lots of room for friendliness; we can use each other's names, for example, and chit chat from time to time. Write as if we are speaking to each other face to face, where, as pillars of friendliness, courtesy and respect are constantly mandatory, and where we are serious about learning. I reserve the right to remove posts that violate our Student Conduct Policy, or cause legitimate complaints.

Homework Quizzes: There is a homework assignment set up on D2L for each chapter of the text. The quizzes can be completed anytime during the week. There will be no opportunity to make up these quizzes once they have been closed. Each quiz has a completely strict deadline. However, as to the tests....

Tests: Make-up tests will be permitted in cases of illness or crisis. Contact me as soon as you know that you either will miss a test or have missed a test. In the case of a personal crisis, students will be referred to the Camosun Counseling services. Rescheduling tests in advance is possible for any reason; for example because you have a major project due on the same day, three exams that week, an important Zoom-party to attend, etc. There is no problem in arranging makeup tests; but these arrangements need to be made as early as possible. They cannot be made after the fact, without support from Counseling services.
