Assignment	Due date	Weight
Longer pieces (max 3,000 words each)	April 14 (you can submit your longer pieces when you feel they are ready – I will accept work throughout the term)	3 x 10% = 30%
Exercises – final versions	Feb 12, Feb 26, March 19, April 2 and April 16	5 x 6% = 30%
Workshop submissions/Readers' reports	Weeks Four, Seven, Nine, Eleven and Thirteen.	5 x 8% = 40% Half marks for submitting your own work, half for preparing feedback.

Please make sure you understand how the grading and workshop/exercise cycles work in this course! There is more information on D2L to make this clear, but if you are at all unsure, please reach out to me for clarification.

6. Grading System

Standard Grading System (GPA)

Competency Based Grading System

7. Recommended Materials to Assist Students to Succeed Throughout the Course

This course presupposes that you are interested in writing, that you are willing to put in time, voluntarily, to get better at writing, and that you believe in the idea that a writer gets better with practice, not by fulfilling the bare minimum of requirements. This course is built on the idea that we're all in this together, and that the best way to spend these 14 weeks is devoting time, effort and energy to becoming better writers, better readers, better critics and better sources of support for our peers.

My suggestions to assist you to succeed are:

- Put in the time. No one can tell you how much time is needed. Put in as much as you can.
- Contact me with questions, concerns, comments, etc. I am a resource and will do my best to help! I'm also pretty good at suggesting other, better or more appropriate sources of support if I know of them.
- Be prepared for this course. That means, for workshop weeks, that you've read and annotated your peers' material, and prepared your reader's reports. For exercises, it means having a clear mind, material to write with, and mental energy for the task.
