5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

Course Description:

In this course, we will trace European history from the end of the French Revolution through the Napoleonic Wars to the present. Among the major themes are the attempts by the dominant powers to restore many aspects of the European pre-revolutionary political landscape at the Congress of Vienna, though they were ultimately unable to stop the appeals of liberal nationalism. The ideas of nation states (and the social effects of the Industrial Revolution) started to destabilize the continental structures, which is most evident in the unification of Germany and the weakening of the multi-ethnic Ottoman and Habsburg Empires. Great power rivalry increased in the scramble for colonies as part of the imperialist expansion overseas. In the 20th century, the two world wars did not only create unprecedented destruction and suffering for soldiers and civilians alike, but also diminished the influence of European powers in the world as the division of the continent during the Cold War and decolonization of remaining overseas empires demonstrated. The revolutions of 1989 re-united the continent and opened the possibilities for the expansion of the European Union and NATO (albeit against Russian national interests as especially the crisis in Eastern Ukraine demonstrates), while the post-Communist order facilitated the re-emergence of ethnic tensions in the Balkans and parts of Eastern Europe.

Course Requirements:

Attendance Note:

The first information that you will need to submit is an attendance note, whether you are in the class or on the waitlist. Since there is a waitlist for this course, please e-mail a note to me at LiebC@camosun.bc.ca to confirm your attendance by 5 pm on Monday Jan. 11 (i.e. the first day of classes). This is important as this attendance note will hold your space in the course. To ensure that waitlisted students will have a chance to take the course. If there is a waitlist, I will begin the deregistration process for students who have not submitted the attendance note by Tuesday Jan. 12.

In your attendance note, please introduce yourself in about a paragraph:

- Your name / student number
- Are you located in Canada or elsewhere?

- Have you taken any other college / university History courses?
- Have you taken history in high school, or is the subject completely new to you? This is an introductory course so no prior knowledge is necessary – but feedback on this will help me get a better sense of the class composition.
- What is your interest in taking this History course? Is there a specific topic, theme, or event that you would like to learn more about?

The level of detail you provide in this attendance note is voluntary, and whether you choose to answer all the questions is up to you, but I will need the note itself to confirm your attendance.

In addition to the attendance note, to pass the course, you must submit the two Article Analyses (i.e. the written commentary and analysis for two of the four assigned academic journal articles).

You must also complete the online InQuizitive quizzes and write the midterm and final exam replacement papers (two short papers for each) to complete the requirements. If, for whatever reasons (i.e. personal or health), you are unable to meet these requirements, please e-mail me, if at all possible, before the deadline or exam, so that we can find a solution. Late penalties for assignments are 5% per day, so please start early.

1) Online Quizzes:

The “InQuizitive” quizzes will be facilitated through the Norton online platform (<https://digital.wwnorton.com/westciv5brv2>). The dates and readings for these quizzes are listed in the course outline and in the online calendar which you can access using your course access key and the Student Set ID: 325902

With the “Student Access Code” bundled with your textbook, you need to sign into the online platform to self-register for access to the e-version of the book and the online components (i.e. the online quizzes). To receive full points for this component you need to complete at least 10 out of the 11 quizzes. More details on how to navigate the online portion will be provided on D2L.

2) Article Analysis (2x15%):

You will be writing two article analyses (750-1000 words each). You will have the choice to write on one of the two assigned articles before the midterm and one of the two after the midterm exam. The deadline for the article analysis is the week when that article was assigned (see course schedule below and D2L for details). In each article analysis, you will be asked to:

- Identify the main argument - what exactly is the thesis statement?
- Briefly summarize the article (i.e. what does it tell you about the topic)

- In the next section, please identify what types of sources the author used and discuss how convincingly the article was supported with specific evidence.
- Each article topic will have a short introduction and guiding questions on D2L (see the weekly entries for more details). Please answer these questions in your response, supported by specific evidence from the reading.
- All information taken from the articles need to be properly footnoted with the exact page number for the source of the details – see History Department Style Guide on D2L.

Guiding questions will be posted on D2L in the weekly schedule, so please make sure to look for those. This will help you to focus your thoughts for the reading of academic journal articles and will train you to identify the main arguments and factual evidence presented in the texts. For an excellent grade, the article analysis should be clear and well-written, show a strong understanding of the content of the reading, include your own thoughts and analysis, support your response with specific evidence from the reading, and cite that evidence with footnotes. As academic papers, these assignments will require proper Chicago Style (Turabian) footnoting – please see the History Department Style Guide on D2L for more details.

Please be aware that students are expected to read all of the four assigned readings, even though you are only required to respond to two of them with these article analyses. All the assigned readings are fair game for the exams.

3) Midterm Exam Replacement Paper (30% - 2x15% for the two essays):

In lieu of the regular midterm exam we will have two 500-word essay responses that will include questions on material from lectures and the textbook covered to that point in the course and potentially also the discussion readings. The aim will be to combine your textbook and discussion article readings and the material from the audio-lectures with Powerpoint (on D2L) to demonstrate contextual understanding of developments relevant to the course. The questions for the two papers will be posted on D2L a week before the due date and will be submitted online through the D2L submission box on Tuesday Feb. 23 at Midnight – please combine the two responses into a single Word or PDF document.

4) Final Exam Replacement Papers (30% - 2x15% for the two essays):

Similar to the Midterm exam, in the final exam, you will be asked to identify the contexts of the major themes covered in the lectures and discussion groups, and to discuss these with reference to significant names, dates and locations in these take-home exams. As with the Midterm, context and questions will be posted on D2L a week prior to the due date.

The Final Exam papers are due in the D2L submission box on Tuesday April 20 at Midnight – please combine the two responses into a single Word or PDF document.

Final Mark break-down:

☞ online quizzes	10 %
☞ article analyses (2x15%)	30 %
☞ midterm exam	30 %
☞ final exam	30 %

Due dates: Assignments must be submitted to the online submission box on D2L at the time and date listed below

Marks will be deducted at the rate of 5% per day for late assignments. If your assignment is late because of illness or family affliction, please make sure to inform the instructor by e-mail as soon as possible – ideally before the deadline. No assignments will be accepted after the final exam day on April 20, 2021 without prior permission from the instructor.

Note: If you find you are unable to complete an assignment, please e-mail me prior to the due dates, or as close to them as possible. It is the student's responsibility to inform me of any difficulties completing course components.

A Note on Plagiarism: Plagiarism will result in a failing grade on the assignment and may result in a failing grade for the course and/or further disciplinary action by the College. Please see the Student Conduct Policy.

What is plagiarism?

1. The use of another person's words (sentences/phrases/paragraphs) without including quotation marks and footnotes. This applies to any written work published in book, text, or magazine form, or anything located on the Internet. In other words, it is plagiarism if someone copies and pastes work from the Internet and presents that work as his/her own.
2. Paraphrasing any author's words or ideas without using a footnote to cite the source.
3. Copying another student's work, either on assignments or exams.
