COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

The ability to implement communication theory into practice is the primary objective of this course. In order to accomplish this, students will complete readings from the text, participate in class discussions, and practice new skills in a series of structured exercises involving pairs and small groups.

Class time will be divided among lecture (theory), group activities (application) and course exercises (skill development). See schedule on previous page

A short quiz will be given after one or two chapter readings. Quizzes ensure students keep up with the text material. There are NO make-up quizzes. The highest four of five quiz marks comprise twenty percent of the final mark. A student may miss one quiz without their grade being affected. Quizzes are comprised of ten questions – multiple choice, T/F, and/or matching questions.

II. Tests 45%

The midterm and one test make up forty-five percent of the final grade. The midterm is worth 27% of the final grade and the test is worth 18% of the final grade. Both tests are comprised of multiple choice, T/F, matching questions, short answer questions, questions based on applied exercises and class activities. Tests provide an opportunity for students to demonstrate their conceptual understanding of course content. The midterm covers material in chapters one through four and chapters six and seven. The test covers chapter five and chapters eight through ten.

III. Transcription Projects 10%

Working in groups of three, students will participate in a 5 minute listening exercise. Students will record their dialogue, transcribe the dialogue and then write an analysis of the dialogue. There will be two transcription projects in the term; each worth 5%.

IV. Participation 5%

Participation includes behavior that demonstrates a commitment to the course. This includes: respectful behavior and conduct towards others, attentiveness, attendance, xxxxxx

V. Lab Assignments 20%

Purpose: To apply the skills and ideas of the course content

Due: at the start of class

Labs must be typewritten

Late assignments will be penalized 3% per day. Assignments submitted more than a week after the due date will not be accepted unless there is a documented reason for the late submission and the student communicated with the instructor in a timely fashion.
