EVALUATION OF LEARNING

DESCRIPTION		WEIGHTING
Exams	There will be three in-person exams; each exam is worth 20% of your final grade. Exams will consist of multiple-choice, short answer, and long answer questions and will test your knowledge of assigned readings and lecture material. The exams will be held at the beginning of class on the dates listed above. More information will be provided in class prior to the first exam.	60
Case Study Presentations	Twice during the term, you must prepare a summary and assessment of one of the case studies (i.e. book chapters) covered in class. You will present this to a small group of students and then facilitate a small group discussion. More information on this assignment will be provided in class. Each presentation is worth 10% of your final grade.	20
Participation	Throughout the term, there will be graded small group discussion assignments during class time (linked to the Case Study Presentations). These discussions must be completed in class and cannot be completed alone. More information on this assignment will be provided on the course website. Each discussion is worth a little under 2% of your final grade. Before each of these small group discussions, you must submit a reflection about the course material in preparation for the in-class discussion. More information on this assignment will be provided on the course website. Completing this reflection is a requirement for receiving a group grade for your in-class discussion.	20
	TOTAL	100%

If you have a concern about a grade you have received for an evaluation, please come and see me as soon as possible. COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Class Attendance

There is no mandatory attendance in this class. However, attendance in class is expected and a significant portion of your grade is linked to your participation in small group discussions. As in regular semesters, medical or other legitimate reasons for missing class will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Please contact me directly if you have to miss a class where there is a participation mark (see below for the procedure for missed assignments).

I am unable to waive your attendance during the entire semester due to medical or other reasons; being able to attend class (including in-person exams) is a requirement for registering in this class. This follows college policy and is designed to ensure your success in the course.

Missed Exam or Assignment Procedure

If you miss an exam or do not hand in your case study presentation assignment on time and you have a reasonable excuse (illness, accident, family affliction, religious obligations, etc.), please contact me as soon as possible to discuss options to make up your work. If you do not have a reasonable excuse, a missed exam or assignment will receive a grade of zero.

If you miss the in-class group discussion and you have a reasonable excuse, please let me know and your participation in that week's discussion will be waived (it will not count for or against you and the remaining discussions will simply be worth a little more).

Please note: If you do not complete all required work for this course, you may be denied a passing grade.

SCHOOL OR DEPARTMENTAL INFORMATION

Since I am currently the Chair of Social Sciences, you are welcome to bring up any concerns with the course directly with Dean or Associate Dean of the School of Arts and Science.
