GRADING BREAKDOWN

Campus Difusión - (20% of final grade)

Prior to each class, students are expected to complete online activities. These exercises are found on Campus Difusión (www.campus.difusion.com), the website that accompanies your textbook. Due dates for Campus Difusión exercises will be listed in a checklist on D2L each class.

Your mark for the Campus Difusión portion of the course will be based on timeliness (did you finish all the activities by the due date?) and effort to improve (are you getting the hang of these concepts?), rather than the percentage grade the website assigns you. I need to see sincere and careful work that is submitted in full and on time for top marks for this portion of your final grade. Completing these exercises on time allows you to fully participate in the course and be prepared to practice speaking during our in-class sessions.

Listening assessments (5)- (20% of final grade)

Each chapter includes a listening quiz that consists of two parts:

1. Dictation: The instructor will read questions aloud and ask the students to write down the question they hear and then answer the question in writing. Students have access to this list of questions in advance on D2L.
2. Textbook CD/web: Students will listen to a track from the CD/web and answer comprehension questions about what they heard. Students have access to all recordings prior to the exams and are encouraged to practice them frequently.

Mini-presentations (2)- (10% of final grade)

On two occasions during the semester, students will give a short oral presentation to a small group of classmates and answer some questions orally. This process will be repeated two or three additional times that day to improve oral skills. Students will need to submit an outline of these presentations for full marks.

Chapter quizzes (5)- (40% of final grade)

Students will complete five written quizzes.

Final Video (1)- (10% of final grade)

This video is your chance to verbally showcase all you have learned during the semester. It can be done individually, in pairs or in groups. Toward the end of the term, I will share the exact requirements for the video, but you can expect to compile situations we practice in the classroom into a final project that demonstrates your speaking mastery of all the areas covered in the course. All your work in the course will prepare you for making this video and it does not require you to learn new concepts or look up for new words or phrases; rather it is a summary project (in Spanish) of all the things you can discuss after completing SPAN 100. Please read the warning below concerning the use of online translators or help from proficient Spanish speakers to complete this project.

COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

Welcome to Spanish 100. Spoken in more than 20 countries, the Spanish language is alive with multiple and distinct cultures and accents, and one course can only begin to touch on some of these aspects. Intended for true beginners, Spanish 100 is an introductory course designed to be followed by Spanish 101 next semester. During this term, we will cover chapters 1-5 of your textbook, Aula Internacional Plus 1. You will learn basic terminology related to many daily life interactions such as meeting new people, university and work life, family and home life, socializing, shopping, and travel-related vocabulary. In this course, students will also gain an introductory knowledge of some of the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world through exposure to music, texts and video-clips.

This course is university transferrable to other institutions and is equivalent to the University of Victoria's SPAN 100A.

(<https://www.bctransferguide.ca/>). If you choose to continue with Spanish 101 at Camosun in the future, you will then complete the remaining four chapters of your textbook. Following these two courses, students are generally at an A1 ("Breakthrough") level. This proficiency level is an internationally recognized milestone that you can use to indicate your level to other institutions all over the world. For more info:

<https://www.coe.int/en/web/common-european-framework-reference-languages/table-1-cefr-3.3-common-reference-levels-global-scale>.

Attendance and your progress in the course:

Learning a new language requires self-discipline and commitment to keeping up with the class. It is very difficult to catch up after failing behind in a language class and students are advised to attend all classes and keep up with the work day-by-day in order to make progress.

There is no mark for attendance and participation, however, students are unlikely to be successful in this course or to become proficient in the language without being present in class.

Illness, accident, family affliction and religious obligations are the only legitimate reasons to miss due dates for in-class assessments and presentations. If you are absent the day of such an activity, please contact me before the missed class to make arrangements.

IMPORTANT (please read)

Warning: online translators

Using the internet, YouTube videos, watching movies, listening to music and news in Spanish is recommended when you immerse in the new language but please be aware that you shouldn't use Google Translate or other types of electronic translators to prepare your assignments or oral presentations.

If you attend the classes and study the learning material at home, you won't need to look for additional help on the internet. The material that we go through during the course is self-contained and should be your source of information to get ready for the quizzes and assessments. So please, it is in your best interest to focus on what we work on in class together to prepare for exams.

All the vocabulary and grammar tenses that you need for your course work and assessments is provided in the materials and in class. Please do not use online translators or solicit help from a native speaker to prepare your oral presentations or your written assignments. Doing this will not help you progress and, it's obvious to the evaluator and will be to your disadvantage to do so.

Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

¡Muchas gracias!
