EVALUATION OF LEARNING

Exams (40%)

Two exams are scheduled for this course.

March 2nd (20%)

Final Exam week (20%)

Each will sample your recollection of the content from the assigned readings and the material addressed each week (course readings, guest speakers, power point, video presentations, etc). Each exam will not be comprehensive and will be based on the material covered between exam periods (ie. The final exam will be based on material covered from March 7th to the course end date). That being said, some of the latter material covered will be based on concepts covered during earlier portions of the course. The format may include true / false, fill in the blank, short answer and multiple-choice questions.

Case Summary Assignment (30%)

Due Date: February 16th, 2023

Late assignments will be penalized by a deduction of 10% of the mark per day.

This assignment will require you to identify and summarize four (4) cases from Canadian appellate courts, to compare those cases and to provide an opinion of those cases. That opinion must include reference to theories studied in this course.

I. SELECTING CASES

To complete this assignment, you must select one of the following divisions of the law: Criminal Law, Family Law or Tort Law. If you wish to choose another division of law, you must obtain approval from your instructor first.

Once you have selected your division of law, you must identify a specific topic in that division. That topic should be sufficiently focussed to narrow your research and allow for effective comparison of your cases. Consider the following examples:

1. Criminal Law: (The test for first degree murder vs. second degree murder; the test for manslaughter, the defence of mistake of fact in cases of sexual assault; the defence of provocation for second degree murder, provincial variation in Driving while Intoxicated).
2. Family Law: (Entitlement to spousal support after divorce; access rights for grandparents; best interests of the child test in awarding custody).

3. Tort law: (Intentional infliction of mental distress; damages for traumatic brain injury in motor vehicle collisions; commercial host liability).

To identify your topic, consider reviewing the relevant chapters in your textbook for ideas. Consult your instructor if you are having trouble selecting a topic.

You must find and summarise four (4) case decisions on your specific topic in accordance with the instructions below. At least one (1) case must be the most recent decision from the Supreme Court of Canada on your topic. At least two cases, must be from Provincial Courts of Appeal and you must have at least one case from two different jurisdictions (provinces). For example:

- Supreme Court of Canada, BC Court of Appeal, Alberta Court of Appeal, Manitoba Court of Appeal
- Supreme Court of Canada, Ontario Court of Appeal, Nova Scotia Court of Appeal, BC Court of Appeal

You may write two summaries on the same case only if there were differing decisions at the Provincial Appeal Court and Supreme Court of Canada levels.

Research, meaning selecting cases and finding decisions, is a key part of this assignment. Once you have found your four (4) cases, the summarizing part of the assignment will be fairly straightforward. If you select cases that involve constitutional questions or where the courts have altered new law or changed existing law, the assignment will be easier to complete. Media coverage may be helpful in finding cases and in writing your summary in terms of identifying issues and outcomes, but research outside of the case decisions is not required.

Decisions of courts are available online. Each court has a search engine to use and there is a free legal research platform called CanLII. Links will be posted to D2L.

II. SUMMARIZING YOUR CASES

Each case should be presented individually and summarized. Start with the name of the case, the jurisdiction and court name and the citation for that case.

For each case you summarize, you must cover the following topics:

1. Identifying the issue(s) of law at question (What is the case about?);
2. Stating the outcome of the case, including how the judges decided (was the decision unanimous, 5-0, 3-2, 6-3?);
3. Identifying the author of the majority decision;
4. Noting if there were other opinions given (were there concurring or dissenting opinions?); and briefly, what that opinion is.
5. Briefly describing the central reason for the decision (why did the court decide the case this way?) and the points of argument in the case (What were the main questions to be settled or questions where the judges continued to disagree?). Do not repeat the full arguments of the court. Longer is not better. The key skill you are demonstrating here is summarising briefly. You should be able to summarize each case in under 150 words.

III. COMPARISON/OPINION

After you have summarized all your cases, you must also complete the following:

1. Comparative summary:

Write a short comparative summary about the cases you have researched. You should discuss common trends or principles in the cases or areas in which the cases appeared to differ. Ask yourself questions like: Why did similar cases have similar or different outcomes? How has the opinion of the courts changed over time? Did the Supreme Court of Canada have a different opinion than one or more Courts of Appeal? Why?

2. Opinion/argument:

Briefly explain your opinion about the area of law you have researched and what the state of the law is according to the cases you have reviewed. You must include at least one of the theoretical approaches to law discussed in class and Chapter 1 of the textbook, other than Positivism (e.g. Legal Realism, Feminism, Marxism, etc.), and may apply your own ideas as well.

Your own written work should total approximately 1000 to 1200 words, the equivalent of four (4) to five (5) pages, double-spaced, in 12-point font. Include a title page and brief introduction to the area of law you are examining.

IV. REFERENCES

You must include a reference page with the name and citation for each case you have used, with web links to each case. It should also include other sources of information referenced.

- EXAMPLE: R. v. Mann, [2004] 3 S.C.R 59 <https://scc-csc.lexum.com/scc-csc/scc-csc/en/item/2167/index.do>

Submitting work that is not your own is plagiarism and may result in a zero grade for the assignment. For each case, you must start by providing the case citation.

Case Analysis Assignment (30%)

Due Date: April 6th, 2023

The expectation of this assignment is to conduct a detailed examination of the conflict in two of the cases used in your Case Summary Assignment and discuss how the original conflict could have been resolved using an alternative model of dispute resolution that has been discussed in the course content.

This assignment must be written using APA style and utilize at least two academic references. Choose two different disputes used in your Case Summary assignment and discuss how each could have been solved using your chosen model of dispute resolution. Choose one form of dispute resolution discussed in class and describe why it was chosen for your particular disputes. A detailed expectations list for this assignment will be discussed in class in early March.

Please Note: Late Penalty

All assignments must be completed and submitted on the date and at the time assigned. The penalty for late assignments will be 10% per day. An extension can be granted only with at least 72 hours notice and will be for one assignment per student per semester.

If you have a concern about a grade you have received for an evaluation, please come and see me as soon as possible. Refer to the Grade Review and Appeals policy for more information.
